Democrats Hunt Answers To Disputes

★ ★ ★ Convention Opens Tonight ★ ★ ★

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mississippi Negroes said "no compromise" and Alabama's white delegates shouted "no loyalty pledge" as Democrats searched for answers to the hottest issues at their national convention.

Chances of keeping the Mississippi and Alabama disputes from bursting fourth upon the floor of the convention when it opens tonight appeared slim. The threat of a walkout by some Southern delegations remained a possibility.

The credentials committee failed to decide Sunday whether the largely Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic delegation or the all-white regulars from that state should be seated. The committee resumes today its search for a solution it hopes will satisfy Southern states and Southern and Northern Negroes.

Dr. Aaron Henry, Negro chairman of the Freedom group from Clarksdale, Miss., said the group would not take a "back-of-the-bus" compromise.

Henry was backed by Dr. Martin Luther King who said "a natural reaction of Negro voters would be to go fishing election day" if the Freedom party is not seated. King heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Two civil rights organizations set up vigil in front of Convention Hall early today in support of the freedom delegation. The organizations were the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Henry and King said they had the votes in the credentials committee needed to force the issue onto the floor of the convention if the committee fails to give seats and votes to the Freedom delegation. There has been speculation that the committee, in an effort to satisfy the Negroes, would give them seats on the floor but no voice and no vote.

Henry and his Freedom party want to be seated because, they say, the regular Mississippi Democratic party will not support President Johnson, his vice presidential choice, or the national Democratic party. They also say the regular Democrats exclude Negroes from their ranks.

Lawrence said the pledge that was sought was of the same type required of members of the Democratic National Committee.

The pledge reads:

"It is the duty of every member of the Democratic National Committee to declare affirmatively for the nominees of the convention, and that his or her failure to do so shall be cause for the Democratic National Committee or its duly authorized subcommittee to declare his or her seat vacant after notice and opportunity for hearing."

Although 5,260 Democrats poured into this resort city to mingle with tourists and to cast their ballots as delegates and alternates, the only vote that really counted would be registered by President Johnson.

If Johnson had made up his mind about a vice presidential nominee, he appeared to be keeping this choice to himself. The names of a dozen prominent party members were tossed about in speculation. That of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota led all the rest.

But the LBJ brand had been burned so deeply into this convention that from National Chairman John M. Bailey down to the lowliest alternate there was a wariness against forecasting what the President might do.

Johnson kept his hand firmly on the throttle as the convention committees went through their paces. No decision was made without checking with the White House.

The word had gone down the line to avoid any explosive fight over a civil rights plank and to settle the controversy over the seating of contested Alabama and Mississippi delegations in a least offense to Southerners and the Negro-dominated delegation manner calculated to give the demanding seats from Mississippi.

Late Sunday night, the platform writers reached preliminary agreement on a call for enforcement of the new Civil Rights Act and on condemnation of political extremist tactics.

The credentials committee, headed by former Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, ruled Alabama delegates would have to sign an oath of loyalty to the national party ticket if they wished to participate in the convention.

Quickly this group, selected under the auspices of segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace, rejected the demand. National Committeeman Eugene (Bull) Conner of Birmingham already had the delegation's convention credentials in hand and declined to surrender them.

A much more difficult decision faced the committee today. It promised to come to grips with the question of seating an all-white 23-vote unpledged delegation from Mississippi or the largely Negro Mississippi Freedom Democratic party group.

In another section of the civil rights front, the platform committee's executive committee produced a plank pledging "fair and effective enforcement" of the new civil rights law. This was about what the Republicans promised, in different language.

The fight over the Mississippi delegation was dramatized early today when 75 Negro and white demonstrators sat on the boardwalk in front of Convention Hall and vowed to remain there until the Mississippi Freedom group was seated.

Whatever happens on the civil rights plank and on the Mississippi delegation contest, there seemed little likelihood of any significant Southern walkout. Humphrey, among others, came up with a forecast that the difficulties would be ironed out without without a bolt.

Pacing along with Humphrey in the non-contest for second place on the ticket were Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Mike Mansfield of Montana. There was also talk of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., undersecretary of commerce, because Johnson continued to regard the late president with high esteem.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, mentioned as a possibility, had a "feeling," he said, that it would be Humphrey. Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City said he "would certainly accept" the nomination but wasn't sitting around dreaming about getting it.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy resigned Sunday as a Massachusetts delegate, asking that he be replaced by Joan Kenne-

Viet Mobs Sack, Burn Buildings

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Youthful mobs in Saigon, Hue and Da Nang sacked and burned buildings today in the worst outbreak of organized rioting in South Viet Nam since last summer.

Several hundred students supporting the government sacked and burned the Student Union building in Saigon in a counter-demonstration.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, more than 1,000 howling youths stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks as antigovernment demonstrations took an increasingly anti-American tone.

A grenade exploded at the height of the riot, seriously injuring three demonstrators. There were no American casualties. Another blast a short time later killed a woman.

The 30 or more Americans in the barracks fired shots into the air to scare off the demonstrators as rocks smashed windows.

The mob then attacked a nearby Roman Catholic village and set a house afire. Villagers moved out of their houses to defend themselves while their women carried children and belongings to a waterfront pier.

After the fire, mob leaders called for a withdrawal. But some rioters slipped back into the village and set two more houses aflame.

Another grenade exploded as the rioters pulled back. A maid working at the enlisted man's barracks was wounded and died soon afterwards.

More Americans are stationed in Da Nang, on the South China Sea, than anywhere else in the country, except Saigon.

As in the earlier disorders, police stood by without interfering. Firemen doused the flames before they could wreck the building but the interior was ruined.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Death literally rode Ohio's highways this past weekend as motorists died at a rate of nearly one every two hours while posting a gruesome traffic toll of 26, the worst of 1964.

The fatality total was the worst since the weekend of July 11-13, when 22 persons lost their lives on the state's highways.

Between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday The Associated Press counted five multiple deaths accidents, including two in Lorain County in which a total of seven persons died.

In one of the Lorain County tragedies, a divorced father taking his four children on a ride during a weekend visit lost control of his car west of Elyria and slammed into a bridge. All five persons were killed.

The other Lorain County accident killed two persons, and two accidents in Fairfield County and Defiance County also killed two persons each.

The weekend was a grim reminder of the hazards of the long Labor Day weekend coming up in two weeks.

Hurricane Roars Toward Jamaica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Cleo, worst hurricane of the season, raged across the Caribbean toward Jamaica today, leaving behind a path of death and destruction.

Jamaica tonight with hurricane force, the Weather Bureau said.

Gale force winds and heavy rain pounded the southern coast of the Dominican Republic early today. Small but powerful Cleo, with 140-mile center winds, pressed onward south of the island of Hispaniola, which the Dominican Republic shared with Haiti. Severe lowland flooding was predicted.

The Weather Bureau said that Cleo's 125-mile wide mass of hurricane force winds apparently would skirt Hispaniola's heartland. The storm was headed toward Haiti's southern peninsula, where thousands were killed last year by Hurricane Flora.

Cleo also might strike Cuba with its fury intact, the Weather Bureau said. It was too early to say whether it would pose any danger to the U.S. mainland.

Cleo was centered at 4 a.m., edt, about 125 miles southwest of Santo Domingo City, moving on a path between west and west-northwest about 17 m.p.h.

Platform's Due Final Polishing

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —A Democratic party platform designed for broad party acceptance, even on civil rights and political extremism, gets its final polishing today.

It calls for fair and effective enforcement of the wide-ranging new Civil Rights Act, but does not recommend additional legislation. Northern supporters of the law and at least some Southerners indicated they could live with this formula.

Although much of the party statement still is officially secret, pending consideration by the full platform committee today, informants said the draft platform decries political extremism generally and also the tactics of some organizations, naming the John Birch Society, the Communist party and the Ku Klux Klan.

The platform committee's executive panel, working late into the night, decided to avoid controversy on two other subjects simply by omitting them from the platform. These were the issues of legislative reapportionment and prayer in schools.

The full committee, which already has approved foreign affairs and national defense portions of the platform, was called into session to consider the final, domestic portion today. The convention has the last say, but committee approval almost certainly means acceptance of the platform with little or no debate by the delegates, who open the party's national convention tonight.

The committee is working closely with the White House, and is understood to be heeding a plea by President Johnson to avoid convention floor battles.

The civil rights plank, it was understood, contemplates federal enforcement of the rights guarantees when and if necessary, but also speaks up for law and order in language designed to please critics of recent racially tinged riots.

At stake is the Democratic nomination as Grant District county commissioner.

William C. Graham of Chester, a county commissioner for many years, defeated Alvin B. Clutter of Chester by 25 votes for the nomination. It was a neck-and-neck race and all the ballots were recounted. Graham's 25 - vote includes the Precinct 39 ballots.

They're Democrats, Guessing On VP

Delegates And Alternates Have 2 Common Interests

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The 5,260 delegates and alternates at this national convention have two things in common: they're Democrats and they don't know who Lyndon Johnson wants for vice president.

In fact, they don't even know if the President has made up his mind about a running mate, for he isn't saying. He isn't even hinting.

So the guessing game continues, with only one thing certain — by Wednesday night the mantle will have fallen on someone.

Like last week and the weeks before that, the names being mentioned most are Minnesota's two liberal Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey and the professor he persuaded to go into politics, Eugene J. McCarthy.

They appeared separately Sunday night on NBC's "Meet the Press," said separately they had not discussed the vice presidency with Johnson and collectively left little doubt they wouldn't mind being his running mate.

Afterward, they received a telephone call from the White House, spoke separately to the President and appeared jubilant. Quipped Humphrey: "Well, we're both in. He's going to take both of us."

The rumor mills also are working over these other names: California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Senate Demo-

The 92 musicians presented a 45-minute concert and four dance routines at the U. S. Pavilion Sunday before a crowd of about 3,500.

Invitations followed to perform at the Lebanese and Montana pavilions and the exhibit of a cigar company. On Saturday, the band played at the West Virginia Pavilion.

Returning home this morning at 8:30, the three bus-loads of students were greeted by friends and parents at the high school near Pughtown. "They were a little tired, but very happy," on official said.

Mrs. Charlotta Logston of Newell, Hancock County school nurse, said the trip "was very well planned, and there were no catastrophies." A few musicians developed blisters on their feet, none serious.

Among the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. John D. Herron of New Cumberland, Wayne Westfall, Cy Macosko, Mrs. Lancia, Mrs. Lilli Crissinger, Mrs.

They're Democrats, Guessing On VP

Delegates And Alternates Have 2 Common Interests

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The 5,260 delegates and alternates at this national convention have two things in common: they're Democrats and they don't know who Lyndon Johnson wants for vice president.

In fact, they don't even know if the President has made up his mind about a running mate, for he isn't saying. He isn't even hinting.

So the guessing game continues, with only one thing certain — by Wednesday night the mantle will have fallen on someone.

Like last week and the weeks before that, the names being mentioned most are Minnesota's two liberal Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey and the professor he persuaded to go into politics, Eugene J. McCarthy.

They appeared separately Sunday night on NBC's "Meet the Press," said separately they had not discussed the vice presidency with Johnson and collectively left little doubt they wouldn't mind being his running mate.

Afterward, they received a telephone call from the White House, spoke separately to the President and appeared jubilant. Quipped Humphrey: "Well, we're both in. He's going to take both of us."

The rumor mills also are working over these other names: California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Senate Demo-

First Mass In English In U.S.

National Liturgical Week Opens Four-Day Session

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Joseph Cardinal Ritter, host prelate for the 25th annual National Liturgical Week, sees today's opening session as publicizing changes being made in Roman Catholic worship without disturbing doctrine.

Key feature of the four-day meeting of some 15,000 delegates — from bishops to parishioners—is celebration of the Mass in English late today for the first time in the United States.

The English-language Mass will be effective throughout the country Nov. 29. Other countries will be able to celebrate it in their own languages too.

The Ecumenical Council, said Cardinal Ritter, 72-year-old archbishop of St. Louis "desires the church to be alerted to be adapted to our times, and also to show forth the church in a better light to the world."

The conference will discuss in a workshop atmosphere changes in church reform and progress. They range from replacement of Latin by English in the Mass to new concepts of church art and music.

Cardinal Ritter had a lead role during the two Vatican councils in obtaining approval for English usage in the Mass. He also has been a leader in promoting other changes in church liturgy.

The liturgical conference is the formal Catholic body concerned with Christian worship. It comprises educators, Bible scholars, musicians, artists and others involved in church liturgy.

The first of four English-language Masses will be celebrated at 5 p.m. at Kiel Auditorium in downtown St. Louis. Cardinal Ritter will celebrate another Tuesday — feast of St. Louis IX, king of France and patron of the city.

Khanh was expected to address the nation by radio today and appeal for national unity in face of the Communist threat.

Student and Buddhist opposition has swelled in the past week since Khanh's military junta elevated him from premier to president and promulgated a constitution giving Khanh extraordinary powers in a national emergency.

The students are demanding a popularly elected civilian government. Khanh told them in a direct confrontation Saturday that popular elections couldn't be held until the Viet Cong has been defeated.

Commissioners Finley and Evans, the nomination would apparently go to Clutter. Rejection of the Precinct 39 ballots would mean a 48-vote victory for Clutter as Graham would lose 212 votes in that precinct, and Clutter only 139.

Finley and Evans delayed a decision from last Tuesday until today to give Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr an opportunity to review similar cases upon which rulings of the courts have been handed down. The prosecutor's ruling will apparently influence the decision. Graham has disqualified himself voluntarily from voting, because the issue involves his own votes.

Four Traffic Mishaps Kill Total Of 43

By The Associated Press

Four weekend auto accidents in four states killed a total of 43 persons, including 11 children.

Near Aurora, Minn., Sunday three New York State residents driving to a funeral home to view the body of their father were killed in an accident.

The victims included Max Kochevar Jr., 21; his brother, Robert, 20, and sister Judith, 13, all of White Plains, N.Y.

The car was driven by a cousin, Jacqueline, 21, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kochevar of Gilbert, Minn. Jacqueline was killed, and so was a young Minneapolis woman riding in the second car.

At Scotland Neck, N.C., Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Draughan of Hobgood, N.C., and four of their five children were among nine persons killed when their can ran off a rural road and crashed into a tree.

Near Elyria, Ohio, Sunday a convertible slammed into a concrete bridge, killing a recently divorced father and his four children.

They were Ronald Pandy, 26, of Lorain, Ohio, and his children, Debbie, 7; Danny, 5; David, 4, and Dennis, 2. Pandy was taking the youngsters to a store to buy them some toys.

In Gorham, N.H., Sunday six persons were killed on Route 16 when two cars crashed head on in a downpour and one careened into a third. Six other persons were taken to a hospital.

Near Sanford, N.C., Saturday, eight persons were killed in a two-car collision on fog-shrouded U.S. Route 1.

Indiana recorded two three-death and one four-death accidents during the weekend, the latter caused by a 14-year-old girl driver.

180 End Scout Groups' Camp

About 140 Boy Scouts and 40 Cub Scouts participated in the annual Cherokee District Pioneer Scout Camp Friday through Sunday at the East Liverpool Beagle Club grounds just off the Y. & O. Rd. near Calcutta.

Scout Troop 31, sponsored by Orchard Grove Methodist Church, and Troop 36 of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church, were winners in craft competition in such events as string - burning and pancake tossing.

Troop 34 of the Pennsylvania Methodist Church displayed 19 different American Flags used in America's history.

The Cubs engaged in numerous craft events with Explorer Post 12, sponsored by the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, in charge.

The boys erected shelters out of natural materials, which kept the scouts warm and dry in spite of the rain.

A campfire program was held Saturday night and church services Sunday morning closed the outing.

William Rayburn, chairman of the Cherokee District camping and activities committee, was in charge of the camp.

2 Killed In Wreck

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) — William H. Baker, 30, and Carl E. Wade, 25, both of Cincinnati, Ohio, were killed Sunday when their car went off Interstate 75 five miles north of here.

Lisbon Fair Doors To Open 119th Time

Fairgoers have their eyes on Lisbon as they await the opening Wednesday of the 119th annual Columbiana County fair—the granddaddy of them all.

There's seldom any middle course on fairs — you either like them or you don't. Fortunately, most people love them. And those who do will have an abundance of entertainment in store when they visit the fairgrounds in Lisbon. As always, there will be something for every one.

The true purpose of fairs such as that about to get under way in the county seat often is lost in the glamour and excitement that go with the varied attractions.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who misses few fairs over the state, reminded the other day that such expositions serve to point up the importance of agriculture. These were his words:

"Agriculture is Ohio's largest industry and provides more jobs, directly and indirectly, than any other field of enterprise. These fairs underscore the drama of what agriculture means to the Ohio economy and they emphasize the superb advances constantly being made."

If you are among those who like fairs, be sure you're one of the 30,000 expected to throng the grounds at Lisbon Wednesday through Sunday.

The Columbiana County Fair Board again has gone all out to assure a top-notch program. You won't be disappointed if you join the others along the midway, visit the various exhibits and scream for your favorite at the horse races and other contests.

Civic Music Calls

The Tri-State Civic Music Association has launched its annual membership drive, with another outstanding series of concerts in the making to back up the appeal.

Once more a group of dedicated volunteers is shouldering the responsibility of the campaign. Whether the appeal is successful depends to a considerable degree upon their efforts.

But even more it depends on you, the residents of the area, who will reap in a cultural sense the benefits of the program Civic Music again will offer. Your individual response to the appeal is the key to the situation.

If you respond, Civic Music will be here to stay for another delightful season. If you fail to respond, the future of Civic Music will be in jeopardy.

There's no question but that Civic Music belongs. Let's make the response overwhelming on behalf of renewed and new memberships.

Lyndon Johnson's Show

Delegates shaping the Democratic party's future this week in Atlantic City may pause now and then to think about the incongruities and ironies of national politics.

If John F. Kennedy had lived, the only question before the convention would be his choice for the vice presidential nomination.

Under the circumstances, it might have seemed expedient to dump Lyndon B. Johnson in favor of someone with greater vote-pulling potential.

It was widely discussed in party circles before Mr. Kennedy's violent death last November that the narrowness of his victory in 1960 made it mandatory to put together a stronger ticket than a rerun of the Kennedy-Johnson partnership.

It was widely remarked in the country as a whole that Mr. Johnson seemed to have been buried alive in the vice presidency. Unlike his predecessor in the job, Richard M. Nixon, he had not been able to shine through the obscurity of the vice presidential office.

IT WAS A matter of wonderment that a man of his temperament, who had been so long a spotlighted figure in government could have disappeared from sight so completely and that this had happened despite a series of important missions undertaken in behalf of President Kennedy. It was pointed out that many of his missions had taken him out of the country.

Then came the fateful event in Dallas.

Overnight, Lyndon B. Johnson was the most watched man in the world.

In a matter of days, he had attained more stature in the presidency through the wishful thoughts of his countrymen than had been enjoyed by his predecessor. They had taken President Kennedy for granted. They were solicitious of President Johnson.

By early 1964 he had demonstrated that nothing had been lost from the sure touch that made him the strongest Senate majority leader in a generation.

And now, at the outset of the stretch run for the presidency that John F. Kennedy had expected to be making, Lyndon B. Johnson is the undisputed leader of the Democratic party and a popular nominee for its presidential nomination.

GONE IS THE curse of obscurity. Gone is the handicap of public service in the shadow of a glamorous figure. Gone is the awkward assignment to play second fiddle.

This is President Johnson's show, and he so obviously relishes the star role in 1964 that even his critics must give him credit for the way he plays it.

The shoe he wore in the Kennedy administration is about to be fitted to another boot. That is the only suspense in the Democratic convention in 1964.

Who will be tapped for the vice presidential nomination which Lyndon B. Johnson might not have been given if John F. Kennedy had lived?

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

As a wilderness man from way back, this new movement for establishing wilderness areas has my hearty endorsement.

It is surprising that sponsors of the cause can even find virgin timber in this 20th century era of the quick buck, mass housing and vanishing hardwood.

A fondness for the wilderness is easy to come by, especially if you were brought up within walking distance of a woods.

We had a woods a quarter of a mile from our house, at the end of our street. It was our playground.

THE OWNERS were very absentee. We carved our initials freely, chopped down saplings, built lean-tos and performed minor depredations without ever being chased once or ever hearing of a complaint. "You can't hardly do that no more."

To the best of my knowledge, that woods is now interlaced with streets and spotted with ranch-type homes, so we did not desecrate the wilderness as much as it was desecrated later.

We had a couple of other things we liked to do, and I have often wondered whether you ever did them. One of these pastimes was tree-crossing, where you climb up one tree and then climb out a branch and cross to another tree.

The other was to bend trees. You climb a young tree about 15 or 20 feet high and when you get near the top you kick out with your body and the trunk bends gracefully to let you gently down to the ground.

We were sometimes slightly shocked to see all these sloping young trees the next day or two after we had had a tree-bending spree but they soon straightened up and assuredly by the time the modern suburbia moved in our childhood transgressions had long since disappeared.

MANY OF our initials were carved on trunks high above the ground and we often wonder how many modern children find them, possibly attributing them to earlier Indian fighters, explorers and pioneers.

Speaking of pioneers, it was they who conquered the wilderness and made clearings where civilization could flourish. Now pioneers are re-establishing the wildernesses. The wheel has come full circle, as you writers say.

This brings up a split-personality that most of us have—we are for preserving nature and at the same time for more supermarkets and superhighways. However, at this late date it seems we could put more emphasis on establishing more super-wildernesses.

With all our asphalt jungles it is difficult to appreciate the possibility of having sylvan jungles only a few miles away. As is frequently pointed out, some of these virgin forests have trees 300 or so years old, which are older than our republic. They may remember George Washington.

ONE THING that has bothered me about this whole wilderness project is that it is designed to show us moderns how things were in the recent beginning in this country, but the moment we start looking at it, it won't be a wilderness any more.

Here a beer can, there a beer can and everywhere a beer can, beer can.

It is painful to say it, but whatever you do don't let any little boys go in and carve their initials and bend trees, either, or they will become juvenile delinquents, vandals and who knows what all.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

The 'Westerns' Always End This Way

Coin Dealers Have Tiger By The Tail

By Marshall Peck

NEW YORK — Eva B. Adams, director of the United States Mint, has a warning for 1964 coin hoarders: get out before the roof falls in.

Miss Adams, who supervises the production of all American coinage, is a very interested party to a phenomenom that has racked some sections of the country — the lack of small change.

One of the reasons, along with the ever-increasing use of vending machines, automatic toll gates, and laundries, etc., is an urgency within the public to put aside 1964 coinage, in quantity, in anticipation that time will greatly enhance its present face value.

No one knows, of course, how much 1964 coinage, as well as coins of recent years, the speculators have cached away. But it's agreed that the demand, which has been great enough to drive prices over face value, has taken a large proportion of small change out of common circulation.

For that matter, it is common talk among coin dealers that a portion of 1964 coinage never is thrown directly into the public's hands because persons in strategic positions—bank clerks, say — channel new change, just received from a U.S. mint, to dealers.

THE RESULT is that a supply - and - demand situation has been created in what would seem to be the most available of commodities—current U.S. coinage. A teletype circuit links many major American dealers to expedite transactions and keep a level market. The tempo of today's sales are by the rolls of coins—or even by the ton.

$.85 for a roll of 50 pennies.
$2.75 for a roll of 40 nickels.
$5.75 for a roll of 50 dimes.
$11.50 for a roll of 40 quarters.
$13.50 for a roll of 20 half-dollars.

The advertisement, which offers time payments on large orders—left a blank under the prices being paid for 1964 coins. According to several dealers interviewed, there is little dealer interest in buying back from the general market, nor do most dealers see any potential in setting big stocks aside.

THE REASON is, as the more candid dealers point out, that with so much 1964 coinage being stashed away, the supply will probably always measure up to demand in later years and thus kill much of a chance for an investment profit.

But now something has come along to dampen the future for hoarders. This is the intention of the government to meet the change crisis by minting "1964" coins in 1965. The Robertson bill, passed by the Senate and voted out to the floor by the House Banking Committee, proposes the Treasury continue minting 1964 coins to July 1, 1965, or to Jan. 1, 1966, to end any shortage of coins. In other words, the legislation would break the back of hoarding by putting a glut on the market.

Some dealers think the demand is so insatiable that this action would do little good; others note that partial issuance of 1965 coins would build a new target for speculation; some believe the market is over-extended and that panic selling by large holders would collapse the inflated prices.

THE POSSIBILITY of such a crash was noted recently by Mint director Adams. She told the Herald Tribune News Service that there are indications that "money is coming out of hiding" and that the market is already starting to retrench. "I really think we can see the end of the shortage," she said. "Too many people have been putting too much away. The sooner they get rid of it, the better."

Miss Adams said that it seemed a "ridiculous" attempt had been made by some to corner a piece of the 1964 mint production. Some of those who are putting coins away, she told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, are no more than "professional profiteers" who were trying to "reap fantastic profits . . . at great inconvenience to the rest of the country."

There are other startling aspects to the monetary picture. Nickels minted during the war years, it turns out, have enough of a silver content to make it worthwhile for dealers to buy these and sell them to smelting companies who melt the coins down.

In some parts of the country, organizations which have machines in which silver dollars are used are drilling holes in the coins to make them undesirable to collectors.

COIN DEALERS have a sort of tiger by the tail. Coin-collecting in the old sense—when collections were built on the basis of rarity, significance, and historical interest of the coins—is less in focus nowadays. And whether dealers like the speculative trend or not, they're in business and they've got plenty of it today.

Dealers tended to disagree on the state of the market. One said it was as strong as ever; another pointed to a downward trend in the price of 1964 proof sets as indication of softening. "However you look at it," said a third, "it's a regular orgy."

Odd Facts

The reason a bump pops up on a person's head as the result of a blow is that the blow sets up blood flowing to the injured part as a repair. Some of this blood, or fluid from it, usually leaks out of the blood vessels and seeps in among the fibers of the muscles and other tissues. This makes the tissues swell up, which shows on the surface of the skin as a bump.

It Will Be For Or Against Him

The remarkable fact about this campaign, which will become more and more apparent in the weeks and months ahead, is that Goldwater, not Johnson, will occupy the center of the stage. People will be for him and against him. Few will be for or against LBJ.

The man from Arizona has color. He typifies force and positive opinions. He creates burning issues. He evokes emotion, passionate dedication or implacable opposition among all Americans. To put it mildly, he is interesting. A great amount of the talk among citizens will be about him.

Johnson is a gray but substantial alternative. Nobody gets excited about him. To those who prefer him, he represents what they believe to be safety, reliability, responsibility.

He is the man in the blue serge suit who, except for the fact that he is president, gets lost in a crowd.

HOWEVER he may contrive to win support by his innumerable public appearances, whatever announcements he may make of good news or public benefits, he cannot keep people's minds off what his opponent is, or proposes, or does.

He represents an old, well-known establishment which may comfort and satisfy but not stir vivid interest.

The very crowds from which his margin of advantage may come cannot respond with enthusiasm. For his own personality, his Texas ranch background, his record as a shrewd parliamentarian are of another place and another civilization.

There is no kinship between him and the crowded cities of the North and East. He is of the boundless open spaces which come to most of us only in the endless TV westerns.

His habitat is far from the "maddening crowd" where, his calculations tell him, the votes are that he must get to win.

In the pre-convention fight in the Republican party it was Goldwater or anti-Goldwater all the way. Lodge, Rockefeller and finally Scranton were incidental.

People voted according to their attitude toward Goldwater. Fear based upon alleged irresponsibility was the sentiment Goldwater's opponents sought to evoke.

NOW THE DEMOCRATS are merely taking up this refrain from the defeated Republican aspirants. Nothing has shown this so much as the proceedings before the Democratic platform committee. Secretaries Rusk and McNamara fell into the anti-Goldwater posture.

The headlines after their testimony all stressed their attacks on Goldwater. What they said hailing the virtues of their chief was overlooked.

If, as seems probable, this goes on, Goldwater's strategy is practically ready-made. Whatever he says will draw their attack.

As time goes on, the impression is created that the only function of Johnson is to save the nation from Goldwater. This rivets attention upon the challenger. What he says will be scanned for dangerous sentiments. But the important thing is that it will be scanned and absorbed by the electorate.

What an opposition candidate needs most of all is attention. Once he has won that, he can tell his story, present his views and hold the center of the stage.

This is not the usual pattern of presidential campaigns. Landon, Willkie, and Dewey were attacking somebody. And the prominence this gave to Roosevelt three times and Truman once was an advantage to them. Roosevelt and Truman attained the spotlight. Their opponents were merely voices in the background.

THIS PRIORITY of attention may or may not win the election. There have been occasions, such as the emergence of William Jennings Bryan in 1896 and of Al Smith in 1928, when the more interesting candidate failed of election. But in both cases the divisions in their party were far more serious than is present now in Goldwater's case.

So far as evoking emotional reactions is concerned, Goldwater resembles TR during his presidency and FDR in his second, third and fourth campaigns.

If Goldwater can, as he seems to be doing now, put Johnson and his administration squarely in a defensive posture, and if in so doing he can excite the anger and resentment of the President, the anticipated underdog may become more and more formidable.

It may, despite polls and predictions, be a close and thus a tremendously exciting contest.

Platforms Too Long

By James Marlow

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The most obvious thing wrong with the Democratic and Republican platforms is that they're too long. Relatively few voters are likely to take the time and trouble to wade through them.

Still fewer would go through the ordeal of comparing them point by point, even if they could, to check their accuracy, exaggerations and philosophy.

Such a comparison, just to start, would require saving a copy of the Republican platform, released almost six weeks ago, to lay beside the Democratic document now being made public in pieces here where the convention opens today.

The Democrats, by producing their platform weeks after the Republicans' appeared have a tidy advantage: they have been able in many instances to try to answer the Republicans' complaints point by point.

Platforms are essential for laying out the positions and promises of both parties. And they're useful to the politicians as talking points. But there's no excuse for their unreadable length.

But in this campaign, already showing signs of being heavily weighted with personal attacks, the reasoning and statistics of the platforms are apt to be blurred even for those reading and comparing them.

As usual, this year's two documents follow the typical platform pattern. That of the in-party, the Democrats, glows with optimism about its handling of problems and points with pride to what it considers fine achievements.

The out-Republicans, wanting in, grumble gloom and criticism about the past and future under Democrats and pant for a chance to do it better.

In this sense both platforms are corny.

But there is a deeper difference which in this particular year should get voters' careful attention, although they will form their opinions more from listening to the politicians than from reading them in the platforms.

This deeper difference is between the views of the Democrats and Republicans toward government's role in the American society. As is now well known, the far more conservative Republicans under Sen. Barry Goldwater want far less of it.

The gap between the conservative and liberal views of the two parties is more absolute in this campaign than in any in this century, thanks to the particular philosophy of Goldwater and his followers.

Where many previous elections were far more a personality contest than a struggle between party views of government and toward individuals, this one for the first time in generations should truly hinge upon ideas.

The tone of the two platforms can be illustrated by using side by side section headings from both of them. In what follows the Republican view is given first, the Democratic next:

Republicans: "Inability to Create Jobs." Democrats: "Full Employment." Republicans: "Fiscal Irresponsibility." Democrats: "Fiscal Responsibility," Republicans: "Retarding Enterprises." Democrats: "Economic Growth."

Republicans: "Neglect of Natural Resources." The Democrats, under the heading of "Natural Resources," devote 5½ pages to show how much they feel they have done in this field.

Republicans: "Weakness Before Communism." The Democrats, under the heading of "The Communist World," argue for six pages on how "the record of world events in the past year reflects the vigor and success of U.S. policy."

By Marshall Peck

NEW YORK — Eva B. Adams, director of the United States Mint, has a warning for 1964 coin hoarders: get out before the roof falls in.

Miss Adams, who supervises the production of all American coinage, is a very interested party to a phenomenom that has racked some sections of the country — the lack of small change.

One of the reasons, along with the ever-increasing use of vending machines, automatic toll gates, and laundries, etc., is an urgency within the public to put aside 1964 coinage, in quantity, in anticipation that time will greatly enhance its present face value.

No one knows, of course, how much 1964 coinage, as well as coins of recent years, the speculators have cached away. But it's agreed that the demand, which has been great enough to drive prices over face value, has taken a large proportion of small change out of common circulation.

For that matter, it is common talk among coin dealers that a portion of 1964 coinage never is thrown directly into the public's hands because persons in strategic positions—bank clerks, say — channel new change, just received from a U.S. mint, to dealers.

THE RESULT is that a supply - and - demand situation has been created in what would seem to be the most available of commodities—current U.S. coinage. A teletype circuit links many major American dealers to expedite transactions and keep a level market. The tempo of today's sales are by the rolls of coins—or even by the ton.

$.85 for a roll of 50 pennies.
$2.75 for a roll of 40 nickels.
$5.75 for a roll of 50 dimes.
$11.50 for a roll of 40 quarters.
$13.50 for a roll of 20 half-dollars.

The advertisement, which offers time payments on large orders—left a blank under the prices being paid for 1964 coins. According to several dealers interviewed, there is little dealer interest in buying back from the general market, nor do most dealers see any potential in setting big stocks aside.

THE REASON is, as the more candid dealers point out, that with so much 1964 coinage being stashed away, the supply will probably always measure up to demand in later years and thus kill much of a chance for an investment profit.

But now something has come along to dampen the future for hoarders. This is the intention of the government to meet the change crisis by minting "1964" coins in 1965. The Robertson bill, passed by the Senate and voted out to the floor by the House Banking Committee, proposes the Treasury continue minting 1964 coins to July 1, 1965, or to Jan. 1, 1966, to end any shortage of coins. In other words, the legislation would break the back of hoarding by putting a glut on the market.

Some dealers think the demand is so insatiable that this action would do little good; others note that partial issuance of 1965 coins would build a new target for speculation; some believe the market is over-extended and that panic selling by large holders would collapse the inflated prices.

THE POSSIBILITY of such a crash was noted recently by Mint director Adams. She told the Herald Tribune News Service that there are indications that "money is coming out of hiding" and that the market is already starting to retrench. "I really think we can see the end of the shortage," she said. "Too many people have been putting too much away. The sooner they get rid of it, the better."

Miss Adams said that it seemed a "ridiculous" attempt had been made by some to corner a piece of the 1964 mint production. Some of those who are putting coins away, she told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, are no more than "professional profiteers" who were trying to "reap fantastic profits . . . at great inconvenience to the rest of the country."

There are other startling aspects to the monetary picture. Nickels minted during the war years, it turns out, have enough of a silver content to make it worthwhile for dealers to buy these and sell them to smelting companies who melt the coins down.

In some parts of the country, organizations which have machines in which silver dollars are used are drilling holes in the coins to make them undesirable to collectors.

COIN DEALERS have a sort of tiger by the tail. Coin-collecting in the old sense—when collections were built on the basis of rarity, significance, and historical interest of the coins—is less in focus nowadays. And whether dealers like the speculative trend or not, they're in business and they've got plenty of it today.

Dealers tended to disagree on the state of the market. One said it was as strong as ever; another pointed to a downward trend in the price of 1964 proof sets as indication of softening. "However you look at it," said a third, "it's a regular orgy."

Odd Facts

The reason a bump pops up on a person's head as the result of a blow is that the blow sets up blood flowing to the injured part as a repair. Some of this blood, or fluid from it, usually leaks out of the blood vessels and seeps in among the fibers of the muscles and other tissues. This makes the tissues swell up, which shows on the surface of the skin as a bump.

It Will Be For Or Against Him

The remarkable fact about this campaign, which will become more and more apparent in the weeks and months ahead, is that Goldwater, not Johnson, will occupy the center of the stage. People will be for him and against him. Few will be for or against LBJ.

The man from Arizona has color. He typifies force and positive opinions. He creates burning issues. He evokes emotion, passionate dedication or implacable opposition among all Americans. To put it mildly, he is interesting. A great amount of the talk among citizens will be about him.

Johnson is a gray but substantial alternative. Nobody gets excited about him. To those who prefer him, he represents what they believe to be safety, reliability, responsibility.

He is the man in the blue serge suit who, except for the fact that he is president, gets lost in a crowd.

HOWEVER he may contrive to win support by his innumerable public appearances, whatever announcements he may make of good news or public benefits, he cannot keep people's minds off what his opponent is, or proposes, or does.

He represents an old, well-known establishment which may comfort and satisfy but not stir vivid interest.

The very crowds from which his margin of advantage may come cannot respond with enthusiasm. For his own personality, his Texas ranch background, his record as a shrewd parliamentarian are of another place and another civilization.

There is no kinship between him and the crowded cities of the North and East. He is of the boundless open spaces which come to most of us only in the endless TV westerns.

His habitat is far from the "maddening crowd" where, his calculations tell him, the votes are that he must get to win.

In the pre-convention fight in the Republican party it was Goldwater or anti-Goldwater all the way. Lodge, Rockefeller and finally Scranton were incidental.

People voted according to their attitude toward Goldwater. Fear based upon alleged irresponsibility was the sentiment Goldwater's opponents sought to evoke.

NOW THE DEMOCRATS are merely taking up this refrain from the defeated Republican aspirants. Nothing has shown this so much as the proceedings before the Democratic platform committee. Secretaries Rusk and McNamara fell into the anti-Goldwater posture.

The headlines after their testimony all stressed their attacks on Goldwater. What they said hailing the virtues of their chief was overlooked.

If, as seems probable, this goes on, Goldwater's strategy is practically ready-made. Whatever he says will draw their attack.

As time goes on, the impression is created that the only function of Johnson is to save the nation from Goldwater. This rivets attention upon the challenger. What he says will be scanned for dangerous sentiments. But the important thing is that it will be scanned and absorbed by the electorate.

What an opposition candidate needs most of all is attention. Once he has won that, he can tell his story, present his views and hold the center of the stage.

This is not the usual pattern of presidential campaigns. Landon, Willkie, and Dewey were attacking somebody. And the prominence this gave to Roosevelt three times and Truman once was an advantage to them. Roosevelt and Truman attained the spotlight. Their opponents were merely voices in the background.

THIS PRIORITY of attention may or may not win the election. There have been occasions, such as the emergence of William Jennings Bryan in 1896 and of Al Smith in 1928, when the more interesting candidate failed of election. But in both cases the divisions in their party were far more serious than is present now in Goldwater's case.

So far as evoking emotional reactions is concerned, Goldwater resembles TR during his presidency and FDR in his second, third and fourth campaigns.

If Goldwater can, as he seems to be doing now, put Johnson and his administration squarely in a defensive posture, and if in so doing he can excite the anger and resentment of the President, the anticipated underdog may become more and more formidable.

It may, despite polls and predictions, be a close and thus a tremendously exciting contest.

Platforms Too Long

By James Marlow

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The most obvious thing wrong with the Democratic and Republican platforms is that they're too long. Relatively few voters are likely to take the time and trouble to wade through them.

Still fewer would go through the ordeal of comparing them point by point, even if they could, to check their accuracy, exaggerations and philosophy.

Such a comparison, just to start, would require saving a copy of the Republican platform, released almost six weeks ago, to lay beside the Democratic document now being made public in pieces here where the convention opens today.

The Democrats, by producing their platform weeks after the Republicans' appeared have a tidy advantage: they have been able in many instances to try to answer the Republicans' complaints point by point.

Platforms are essential for laying out the positions and promises of both parties. And they're useful to the politicians as talking points. But there's no excuse for their unreadable length.

But in this campaign, already showing signs of being heavily weighted with personal attacks, the reasoning and statistics of the platforms are apt to be blurred even for those reading and comparing them.

As usual, this year's two documents follow the typical platform pattern. That of the in-party, the Democrats, glows with optimism about its handling of problems and points with pride to what it considers fine achievements.

The out-Republicans, wanting in, grumble gloom and criticism about the past and future under Democrats and pant for a chance to do it better.

In this sense both platforms are corny.

But there is a deeper difference which in this particular year should get voters' careful attention, although they will form their opinions more from listening to the politicians than from reading them in the platforms.

This deeper difference is between the views of the Democrats and Republicans toward government's role in the American society. As is now well known, the far more conservative Republicans under Sen. Barry Goldwater want far less of it.

The gap between the conservative and liberal views of the two parties is more absolute in this campaign than in any in this century, thanks to the particular philosophy of Goldwater and his followers.

Where many previous elections were far more a personality contest than a struggle between party views of government and toward individuals, this one for the first time in generations should truly hinge upon ideas.

The tone of the two platforms can be illustrated by using side by side section headings from both of them. In what follows the Republican view is given first, the Democratic next:

Republicans: "Inability to Create Jobs." Democrats: "Full Employment." Republicans: "Fiscal Irresponsibility." Democrats: "Fiscal Responsibility." Republicans: "Retarding Enterprises." Democrats: "Economic Growth."

Republicans: "Neglect of Natural Resources." The Democrats, under the heading of "Natural Resources," devote 5½ pages to show how much they feel they have done in this field.

Republicans: "Weakness Before Communism." The Democrats, under the heading of "The Communist World," argue for six pages on how "the record of world events in the past year reflects the vigor and success of U.S. policy."

Goldwater Takes Views To Leaders Of Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carries his views on campaign issues to leaders of business and industry today after a word to the farmer: "Price support programs should be voluntary."

The Republican presidential nominee planned to fly to New York for a private reception and dinner with business men and industrial leaders.

A spokesman said Goldwater wanted to outline his stand on foreign and domestic issues, and answer businessmen's questions.

No guest list was announced. The afternoon reception is being sponsored by Percy Douglas, president of the Otis Elevator Co. Hosts for the dinner are George Champion, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and Ralph Cordiner, retired chairman of the General Electric Co.

Goldwater turned his attention to agriculture Sunday in a statement declaring the goal of the Republican party is "a free and prosperous American agriculture with a minimum of federal controls and interference.

"The Republican party is the farmers' party," Goldwater said.

"We will resist all efforts to make the farmer dependent, for his economic survival, upon either compensatory payments by the federal government or upon the whim of the secretary of agriculture.

"Price supports should be designed to help farmers achieve orderly marketing within the framework of our dynamic American market system. Price support programs should be voluntary and should be established for specific commodities in order to widen markets, ease production controls, and help achieve increased family income," Goldwater said.

Goldwater denounced the program for wheat farmers put into effect this year.

He said the Republicans would repeal what he called "the administration's wheat certificate 'bread tax' on consumers, so burdensome to low income families and overwhelmingly rejected by farmers.

"This program has become a nightmare under massive mismanagement of the Johnson-Freeman administration," Goldwater said, referring to the President and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Goldwater Takes Views To Leaders Of Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carries his views on campaign issues to leaders of business and industry today after a word to the farmer: "Price support programs should be voluntary."

The Republican presidential nominee planned to fly to New York for a private reception and dinner with business men and industrial leaders.

A spokesman said Goldwater wanted to outline his stand on foreign and domestic issues, and answer businessmen's questions.

No guest list was announced. The afternoon reception is being sponsored by Percy Douglas, president of the Otis Elevator Co. Hosts for the dinner are George Champion, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and Ralph Cordiner, retired chairman of the General Electric Co.

Goldwater turned his attention to agriculture Sunday in a statement declaring the goal of the Republican party is "a free and prosperous American agriculture with a minimum of federal controls and interference.

"The Republican party is the farmers' party," Goldwater said.

"We will resist all efforts to make the farmer dependent, for his economic survival, upon either compensatory payments by the federal government or upon the whim of the secretary of agriculture.

"Price supports should be designed to help farmers achieve orderly marketing within the framework of our dynamic American market system. Price support programs should be voluntary and should be established for specific commodities in order to widen markets, ease production controls, and help achieve increased family income," Goldwater said.

Goldwater denounced the program for wheat farmers put into effect this year.

He said the Republicans would repeal what he called "the administration's wheat certificate 'bread tax' on consumers, so burdensome to low income families and overwhelmingly rejected by farmers.

"This program has become a nightmare under massive mismanagement of the Johnson-Freeman administration," Goldwater said, referring to the President and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

World War I Veteran Dies

Cline Barton Althar, 73, a World War I veteran, who resided with a brother, Richard G. Althar, 1731 Commerce St., Wellsville, died Saturday at 5 p. m. at the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh. He had been a patient since Aug. 4.

Mr. Althar was born June 15, 1891, in Industry to the late Joseph Althar and Lucy Ward Althar. He was a sergeant in the Battery B of the 323rd Field Artillery of the 32nd Division, in the war and with the Army of Occupation.

Discharged May 27, 1919, he became a farmer near Salineville for many years, and later in the Wellsville area. He retired five years ago because of failing health.

In addition to his brother, with whom he lived for five years, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Virginia Burford of New Brighton, another brother, George A. Althar of Smiths Ferry, and several nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Clark M. Allison, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Industry.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Tuesday afternoon and evening.

John W. Miller

John W. Miller, 307 9th St., Wellsville, a former potter and retired employe at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died Saturday at 7 p.m. at City Hospital where he had been a patient since Aug. 7. He was 68.

Mr. Miller was born in Jackson County, W. Va., March 4, 1896, to the late Asburry Miller and Margaret Woodruff Miller. He resided in Chester and East Liverpool for several years before moving to Wellsville in 1960. He worked at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for several years and was a car repairman at the Midland plant for 11 years. He retired in 1959 because of ill health. He was a member of the Central Methodist Church of Wellsville.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Haney Miller at home; four sons, Charles E. Miller of Casselberry, Fla., James C. Miller of Seville, Ohio, John W. Miller Jr. of East Liverpool, and Franklin H. Miller of Canton; three sisters, Mrs. Martha L. Snyder and Mrs. Nellie Wise, both of Reader, W. Va., and Mrs. Edna Gray of Baden; a brother, Edwin D. Miller of Powhatan Point, and nine grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the church by the Rev. Richard O. Maurer. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery, Chester.

Friends may call at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville this afternoon and tonight.

Mrs. Martha Mamula

Mrs. Martha Mamula, 86, of Industry, R.D. 1 died Saturday morning at 5:45 at Rochester General Hospital, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Mamula was born in Yugoslavia and had resided in Industry for six months, coming from Aliquippa, where she lived for many years.

She is survived by two sons, Stephen Mamula of Aliquippa and Bryan Mamula of New Brighton; five daughters, Mrs. Zoe Rice of Los Angeles, Mrs. Dorothy Abel of Buffalo, Miss Sara Mamula of Washington, Mrs. Thelma Pond of Arroyo Grande, Calif., and Mrs. Sophie Platek of Pittsburgh, and seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at St. Elijah Serbian Orthodox Church of Aliquippa by Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church of Midland. Burial will be in St. Elijah Cemetery.

Friends may call any time at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland.

Infant Blakeley

Graveside services for Jeffrey Allen Blakeley, infant son of Lee Blakeley and Norma Brown Blakeley, 1921 Chester Ave., Wellsville, will be held this afternoon at 3 at Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

The Rev. Robert H. Schondelmayer, minister of the First Christian Church of Chester, will officiate.

The infant was born at City Hospital Saturday at 10:25 a.m. and died at 11:20 p. m.

In addition to his parents, he leaves a brother, Kevin Lee Blakeley at home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ina Medley of Wellsville and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo A. Brown of Chester.

The East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Willa Mort

Services for Mrs. Willa May Mort, 74, of Mansaquan, N. J., a former resident of East Liverpool, were held Friday at the Neary Funeral Home there. Burial was in Atlantic View Cemetery there.

Mrs. Mort, widow of John Mort, died suddenly Tuesday at home.

She is survived by three sons, Clyde Mort and Roy Mort, both of East Liverpool, and Richart Mort of Lakewood, N. J.; three daughters, Mrs. Violet Double of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Helen Morris of Manasquan, and Mrs. Mildred Geltch of Cleveland, and 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Michael Mangano

Services for Michael Anthony Mangano, day-old son of Basil J. Mangano and Peggy Lynn Albert Mangano, 399 Washington St., Newell, were held Saturday at 5 p.m. at the Locust Hill Cemetery in Chester.

Fr. Eugene Jacobs, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Chester, officiated.

The infant died Saturday morning at City Hospital.

The Dawson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Charles Freymark

Services and burial for Charles Albert (Pop) Freymark, 79, a former potter, were held last week at Orlando, Fla., where he died Aug. 17.

Mr. Freymark was born Oct. 10, 1884, in East Liverpool, and resided here for 58 years before going to Orlando in 1938. He worked at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for over 40 years. He resided on lower Thompson Ave. In Orlando, he owned a grocery store for 15 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Georgia C. Freymark at home; two daughters, Mrs. Beatrice F. Finlay and Mrs. Sue F. Isbell, both of Orlando, and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Steel-Wolfe Funeral Home by the Rev. Joseph L. Hunter. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens, Weirton.

Friends may call at the funeral home here after 7 tonight.

Carl Van Orman

WEIRTON — Carl Van Orman, 60, of nearby Paris, Pa., an employe of the Weirton Steel Co. for 38 years, died Sunday at 8:45 a. m. at Weirton General Hospital after a two-month illness. He had been in failing health two years.

Mr. Orman was born Sept. 15, 1903, in Clinton, Ohio, and resided in the Weirton area for 38 years, coming from Canton. He was a charging machine operator in the open hearth department of the steel company. He was Democratic committeemen in the Paris vicinity and was chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township until resigning in April because of his health. He was a member of the Paris United Presbyterian Church and the 25-year club of the steel company. He was married in East Liverpool Dec. 26, 1926, to the former Lela Ida Melott.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Ruth) Plunkett of Paris, and Mrs. Joseph (Gale) Cassella of Weirton, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Steel-Wolfe Funeral Home by the Rev. Joseph L. Hunter. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens, Weirton.

Friends may call at the funeral home here after 7 tonight.

Soldier Takes Course

SUMMITVILLE — Pvt. Charles Tepsic Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tepsic, has completed an eight-week course in surveying at Ft. Sill, Okla., and is to enter an advanced eight-week specialist school. He is a 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, attended Youngstown University and was employed by the FBI in Washington before entering the Army.

On Global Trip

Hookstown Brothers Serve On Same Vessel

Although they enlisted in the Navy three years apart, two Hookstown brothers were lucky enough to be assigned to the same ship for a world cruise.

Seaman App. Robert A. Speer, 19, and Radarman Richard A. Speer, 23, are serving aboard the nuclear powered carrier, Enterprise.

The ship is sailing around the globe in a Naval exercise called "Operation Sea Orbit." In a recent letter to their folks, the brothers wrote the ship is cruising off South Africa after ports of call in Spain and Italy.

The ship will return to Norfolk in October after 28,091 more miles, they figured.

Robert will complete one year in the Navy Oct. 29 and expects to attend yeoman's school in February at Bainbridge, Md. While undergoing boot training, he asked to be assigned to the same ship as his brother and authorities complied.

The elder son, Richard, will have completed his four-year enlistment in December.

Robert & Richard

They are graduates of South Side High School near Hookstown and are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speer.

Rogers Group Airs Cutback

No progress was reported after a special meeting this morning at the Rogers Community Hall on the problem of pupils residing a mile or less from the elementary building, required to walk to school.

The decision to curtail bus transportation was made by the Beaver Local Board of Education because of a lack of funds.

About 110 youngsters outside of the Rogers village limits and 65 to 75 inside apparently must walk to school, under the new order, over heavily - traveled Routes 154 and 7.

Officials and others attended the meeting this morning, including Mayor Glenn Rhodes of Rogers, Sidney Cowan, marshall; Mrs. Harley Walters, a mother, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins, vice president of the Rogers Mothers Club.

Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston, county commissioners; Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan, Sgt. Ralph Russo of the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol, Chester Whitehead, county superintendent of the state highway department at Leetonia, and a representative of the Division 11 Highway Department office in New Philadelphia.

With no solution reached in the two and a-half hour meeting, it was decided that a conference should be held Wednesday evening at 8 with the board at the Public School at Calcutta. If nothing is solved at this meeting, another meeting will be held on Thursday in the Village Hall, sponsors said.

A meeting last week resulted in adoption of a campaign to raise enough funds from the four school areas of the district to finance bus service through Nov. 3 when a levy will be voted on at the general election.

Operation Crime-Stop Launched In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — This city may be noted for its crime, but its citizens are involved in the Chicago Police Department's Operation Crime - Stop.

Launched this spring, the operation invites telephone calls from Chicagoans who may identify themselves or remain anonymous.

Since its inception April 13, 357, citizen telephone calls have been made to POlice 5-1313. The effort resulted in 530 arrests.

Deputy Superintendent James B. Conlisk Jr. said the concession for anonymous calls was responsible for opening the bottleneck in reporting crime. Many citizens formerly were fearful of reporting crime.

'For Sale' Sign Put Up—For Conservation

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Tony Samsel, who is retiring as a Salvation Army official in Des Moines, tells of a fellow officer who retired and went to Florida.

"He hadn't been there long when he put up a 'For Sale' sign in front of his house," Samsel related. "He didn't want to sell the house — he was just lonesome and decided prospective buyers would do in a pinch for conversation and company."

Wife Heeded Warning

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Louisville policeman Rodney Ortkiese warned his wife to beware of purse snatchers in an area where she waited nightly for a bus to take her home from work.

The warning was worth $15. Before going to work a couple of days later, she gave her husband most of her money. Waiting for the bus that night, she had her purse stolen. The loss: only a few cents in change.

TRUNK LINE—A long trunk is a handy item when begging for peanuts. The moat separating pachyderms from people at London's Regent's Park Zoo is easily bridged.

Clark St. was a witness.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning, Watkins was fined $25 and costs.

Waneta McGurren, 859 Ohio Ave., was X-rayed at City Hospital for a possible fractured nose after a wreck Saturday morning on the River Rd. when her car struck a tree.

The 17-year-old told police she was headed west near St. George St. when an approaching auto forced her onto the soft berm. Her car veered across the road and hit a tree on property owned by Robert Owen of Ohio Ave.

Dave Wamsley of 5th St., Glenmoor, was a witness.

The left rear of a parked 1963 sedan owned by Basil William Galipo, 243½ W. 3rd St., was damaged when struck by a hit-skip motorist while parked on Broadway at 1:40 a. m. Sunday.

Police said investigation showed Galipo's car was struck by a 1962 auto owned by Joe K. Klein, 1059 Monaca St. The driver was not identified, police said.

Frank A. D'Angelo, 50, of Philadelphia told police late Saturday night the windshield of his 1960 sedan was broken as he drove under the footbridge on the northbound freeway lamp.

The windshield was struck by a half brick apparently tossed from the bridge, D'Angelo told police, adding that he saw no one.

A Midland Heights woman and an East End man were treated at City Hospital Saturday afternoon for injuries suffered in an accident.

Mrs. Betty Crano, 34, and Carl Natalina, 48, of 926 St. George St. were treated for possible cervical spine strains and released.

Hospital authorities were told the accident occurred between the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. and the state line. Area police said they had no report of the accident.

Babies In America Have Big Appetites

NEW YORK (AP) — America's babies have big appetites.

They eat more than 2 billion jars of baby food a year, according to R. L. Cheney, executive director of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. That, he explained, is about 100 jars annually for every baby under 5 years old.

Until just a few years ago, Cheney said, many baby foods were packed in tin cans as well as glass, but now all processed baby foods are in glass because "that's the way mothers want it."

Auto Wreck Fatal

LA FOLLETE, Tenn. (AP) — A weekend traffic accident north of this east Tennessee town has taken the life of a Sidney, Ohio, man. Charles Jimmy Woods, 24, was killed Saturday night when his car left U.S. 25W about five miles north of here and went over a low embankment.

Holes Save Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County jail prisoners will be allowed to drill holes if plans of county commissioners are realized. But they'll be in dough nuts. Commissioners, figuring to save at least one type of dough, are negotiating for a doughnut machine. They say the cost would be about $200, compared with about $450 monthly for doughnuts served prisoners for breakfast.

The infant was born at City Hospital Saturday at 10:25 a.m. and died at 11:20 p. m.

In addition to his parents, he leaves a brother, Kevin Lee Blakeley at home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ina Medley of Wellsville and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo A. Brown of Chester.

The East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Willa Mort

Services for Mrs. Willa May Mort, 74, of Mansaquan, N. J., a former resident of East Liverpool, were held Friday at the Neary Funeral Home there. Burial was in Atlantic View Cemetery there.

Mrs. Mort, widow of John Mort, died suddenly Tuesday at home.

She is survived by three sons, Clyde Mort and Roy Mort, both of East Liverpool, and Richart Mort of Lakewood, N. J.; three daughters, Mrs. Violet Double of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Helen Morris of Manasquan, and Mrs. Mildred Geltch of Cleveland, and 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Michael Mangano

Services for Michael Anthony Mangano, day-old son of Basil J. Mangano and Peggy Lynn Albert Mangano, 399 Washington St., Newell, were held Saturday at 5 p.m. at the Locust Hill Cemetery in Chester.

Fr. Eugene Jacobs, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Chester, officiated.

The infant died Saturday morning at City Hospital.

The Dawson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Charles Freymark

Services and burial for Charles Albert (Pop) Freymark, 79, a former potter, were held last week at Orlando, Fla., where he died Aug. 17.

Mr. Freymark was born Oct. 10, 1884, in East Liverpool, and resided here for 58 years before going to Orlando in 1938. He worked at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for over 40 years. He resided on lower Thompson Ave. In Orlando, he owned a grocery store for 15 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Georgia C. Freymark at home; two daughters, Mrs. Beatrice F. Finlay and Mrs. Sue F. Isbell, both of Orlando, and three grandchildren.

Carl Van Orman

WEIRTON — Carl Van Orman, 60, of nearby Paris, Pa., an employe of the Weirton Steel Co. for 38 years, died Sunday at 8:45 a. m. at Weirton General Hospital after a two-month illness. He had been in failing health two years.

Mr. Orman was born Sept. 15, 1903, in Clinton, Ohio, and resided in the Weirton area for 38 years, coming from Canton. He was a charging machine operator in the open hearth department of the steel company. He was Democratic committeemen in the Paris vicinity and was chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township until resigning in April because of his health. He was a member of the Paris United Presbyterian Church and the 25-year club of the steel company. He was married in East Liverpool Dec. 26, 1926, to the former Lela Ida Melott.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Ruth) Plunkett of Paris, and Mrs. Joseph (Gale) Cassella of Weirton, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Steel-Wolfe Funeral Home by the Rev. Joseph L. Hunter. Burial will be in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens, Weirton.

Friends may call at the funeral home here after 7 tonight.

Soldier Takes Course

SUMMITVILLE — Pvt. Charles Tepsic Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tepsic, has completed an eight-week course in surveying at Ft. Sill, Okla., and is to enter an advanced eight-week specialist school. He is a 1960 graduate of Salineville High School, attended Youngstown University and was employed by the FBI in Washington before entering the Army.

Hookstown Brothers Serve On Same Vessel

Robert & Richard

Although they enlisted in the Navy three years apart, two Hookstown brothers were lucky enough to be assigned to the same ship for a world cruise.

Seaman App. Robert A. Speer, 19, and Radarman Richard A. Speer, 23, are serving aboard the nuclear powered carrier, Enterprise.

The ship is sailing around the globe in a Naval exercise called "Operation Sea Orbit." In a recent letter to their folks, the brothers wrote the ship is cruising off South Africa after ports of call in Spain and Italy.

The ship will return to Norfolk in October after 28,091 more miles, they figured.

Robert will complete one year in the Navy Oct. 29 and expects to attend yeoman's school in February at Bainbridge, Md. While undergoing boot training, he asked to be assigned to the same ship as his brother and authorities complied.

The elder son, Richard, will have completed his four-year enlistment in December.

They are graduates of South Side High School near Hookstown and are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Speer.

Rogers Group Airs Cutback

No progress was reported after a special meeting this morning at the Rogers Community Hall on the problem of pupils residing a mile or less from the elementary building, required to walk to school.

The decision to curtail bus transportation was made by the Beaver Local Board of Education because of a lack of funds.

About 110 youngsters outside of the Rogers village limits and 65 to 75 inside apparently must walk to school, under the new order, over heavily - traveled Routes 154 and 7.

Officials and others attended the meeting this morning, including Mayor Glenn Rhodes of Rogers, Sidney Cowan, marshall; Mrs. Harley Walters, a mother, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins, vice president of the Rogers Mothers Club.

Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston, county commissioners; Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan, Sgt. Ralph Russo of the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol, Chester Whitehead, county superintendent of the state highway department at Leetonia, and a representative of the Division 11 Highway Department office in New Philadelphia.

With no solution reached in the two and a-half hour meeting, it was decided that a conference should be held Wednesday evening at 8 with the board at the Public School at Calcutta. If nothing is solved at this meeting, another meeting will be held on Thursday in the Village Hall, sponsors said.

A meeting last week resulted in adoption of a campaign to raise enough funds from the four school areas of the district to finance bus service through Nov. 3 when a levy will be voted on at the general election.

Operation Crime-Stop Launched In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — This city may be noted for its crime, but its citizens are involved in the Chicago Police Department's Operation Crime - Stop.

Launched this spring, the operation invites telephone calls from Chicagoans who may identify themselves or remain anonymous.

Since its inception April 13, 357, citizen telephone calls have been made to POlice 5-1313. The effort resulted in 530 arrests.

Deputy Superintendent James B. Conlisk Jr. said the concession for anonymous calls was responsible for opening the bottleneck in reporting crime. Many citizens formerly were fearful of reporting crime.

'For Sale' Sign Put Up—For Conservation

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Tony Samsel, who is retiring as a Salvation Army official in Des Moines, tells of a fellow officer who retired and went to Florida.

"He hadn't been there long when he put up a 'For Sale' sign in front of his house," Samsel related. "He didn't want to sell the house — he was just lonesome and decided prospective buyers would do in a pinch for conversation and company."

Wife Heeded Warning

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Louisville policeman Rodney Ortkiese warned his wife to beware of purse snatchers in an area where she waited nightly for a bus to take her home from work.

The warning was worth $15. Before going to work a couple of days later, she gave her husband most of her money. Waiting for the bus that night, she had her purse stolen. The loss: only a few cents in change.

Clark St. was a witness.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning, Watkins was fined $25 and costs.

Waneta McGurren, 859 Ohio Ave., was X-rayed at City Hospital for a possible fractured nose after a wreck Saturday morning on the River Rd. when her car struck a tree.

The 17-year-old told police she was headed west near St. George St. when an approaching auto forced her onto the soft berm. Her car veered across the road and hit a tree on property owned by Robert Owen of Ohio Ave.

Dave Wamsley of 5th St., Glenmoor, was a witness.

The left rear of a parked 1963 sedan owned by Basil William Galipo, 243½ W. 3rd St., was damaged when struck by a hit-skip motorist while parked on Broadway at 1:40 a. m. Sunday.

Police said investigation showed Galipo's car was struck by a 1962 auto owned by Joe K. Klein, 1059 Monaca St. The driver was not identified, police said.

Frank A. D'Angelo, 50, of Philadelphia told police late Saturday night the windshield of his 1960 sedan was broken as he drove under the footbridge on the northbound freeway lamp.

The windshield was struck by a half brick apparently tossed from the bridge, D'Angelo told police, adding that he saw no one.

A Midland Heights woman and an East End man were treated at City Hospital Saturday afternoon for injuries suffered in an accident.

Mrs. Betty Crano, 34, and Carl Natalina, 48, of 926 St. George St. were treated for possible cervical spine strains and released.

Hospital authorities were told the accident occurred between the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. and the state line. Area police said they had no report of the accident.

Babies In America Have Big Appetites

NEW YORK (AP) — America's babies have big appetites.

They eat more than 2 billion jars of baby food a year, according to R. L. Cheney, executive director of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. That, he explained, is about 100 jars annually for every baby under 5 years old.

Until just a few years ago, Cheney said, many baby foods were packed in tin cans as well as glass, but now all processed baby foods are in glass because "that's the way mothers want it."

Auto Wreck Fatal

Holes Save Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County jail prisoners will be allowed to drill holes if plans of county commissioners are realized. But they'll be in dough nuts. Commissioners, figuring to save at least one type of dough, are negotiating for a doughnut machine. They say the cost would be about $200, compared with about $450 monthly for doughnuts served prisoners for breakfast.

County Has Rash Of 15 Collisions

Nine persons suffered minor injuries in a rash of 15 traffic accidents investigated by Lisbon State Highway Patrol in the county over the weekend.

Three teen-age girls and one boy from East Palestine were treated at Salem City Hospital after their car, going west on Route 14 about 4 miles east of Route 7, dropped off the right berm and went out of control, careening back across the road and striking an embankment, around 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

MARIANNE CRANE, 18, driver, received a broken nose, cut lip and a broken tooth. Others injured were Sandra Woods, 19, laceration of the head and injury to left shoulder, Cheryl Leep, 19, bumps and bruises, and Vincent Allcorn, 18, a bump on the head.

A 75-year-old East Liverpool couple suffered whiplash injury of the neck in a two-car crash about 12:50 p.m. Saturday on Route 267, about a mile north of East Liverpool.

The patrol said a car driven by Samuel J. Dobson, 1956 Lisbon St., was struck from behind by a car operated by John E. Young, 19, of 22 Lisbon St. Both cars were traveling north. Mrs. Adela Dobson was a passenger in her husband's car.

Two more were injured in a two-car collision on Route 46, near East Palestine at noon Sunday.

MRS. NEORA Richey, 41, of Petersburg, suffered head lacerations when the car operated by her husband, William Richey, 43, struck the rear of one driven by James McIlduff, 17, of Rogers R.D.1. McIlduff received a whiplash injury. Both were treated by family doctors.

Authorities said McIlduff was traveling west and had stopped to make a left turn when the Richey auto struck his car in the rear. Richey was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A 17-year-old Hanoverton girl received a bruised left leg in a crash on Route 9, a mile north of Hanoverton, about 11:45 p. m. Saturday.

Cheryl Boyce, 17, was riding in a car operated by Richard C. Koppenhafer, 19, of Salem, which hit the parked car of Larry Anderson, 22, of Hanoverton.

—:—

ANDERSON WAS arrested for failing to display headlights, while Koppenhafer was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A Rogers man was cited for excessive speed when his car, going south on Chamberlin Rd., shot across the intersection at Railroad St., went over an embankment and landed on the railroad tracks about 12:05 a.m. Sunday.

James Edward Cope, 21, was uninjured and there was minor damage to the car.

A car driven by Willis Smith, 23, of New Waterford, skidded into one operated by William Kissinger, 23, of Youngstown about 2:15 a.m. Sunday on Township Road 924, about three miles north of New Waterford.

Smith was arrested for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, while Kissinger was cited for lack of parking lights.

JOSEPH THOMAS Samay, 27, of Atwater, was cited for excessive speed when his westbound auto went left of center and struck the auto driven by Charles Curtis, 64, of Harker Ave., East Liverpool, on State Route 558, about three miles west of East Palestine, at 12:25 p.m. Sunday.

A car operated by Paul C. Wolfe, 44, of Lisbon, was struck in the rear by one driven by Darwin Dingey, 43, of 615 W. 9th St., East Liverpool, about 10:50 a.m. Sunday on Route 30, two and half miles east of Lisbon.

The patrol said Wolf was slowing to make a left turn when hit by the Dingey auto. Dingey was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

THE car of Donald L. Custer, 18, of Lisbon slammed into a bridge abutment on State Route 518 at 3:15 Sunday and the patrol said he was pulling out of a service station and hit his brakes when he saw an on-coming car, causing him to slide into the bridge.

A car driven by John Slagle, 20, of Negley shot through a service station on Township Road 356, returned to the road then went left of center, striking the car of Ambrose Grafton, 63, of 1206 Avondale St., East Liverpool. Slagel was cited for driving left of center.

A car driven by Walter Neal Thompson, 22, of Rogers skidded off Township Road 893, half a mile east of Roue 30, and overturned in a ditch about 5:30 p.m. Sunday. He was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

—:—

LESLIE PAUL Kent, 18, of Sebring was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after he slammed into the rear of the car driven by Frances L. Wicks, 42, of Minerva at the intersection of Route 9 around 4:30 p. m. Sunday. The Wicks auto had stopped.

The auto operated by Mrs. Theresa Cekada, 58, of Barberton, struck the rear of a car driven by Richard Thanes, 26, of Akron about two miles north of East Liverpool on Route 30 Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Thanes had stopped for a stop sign. She was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

No Blame On Age

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Two automobiles cracked together at an intersection close by the driver's licensing bureau. Both cars were driven by beginners. One was 66 and the other 16.

Language 'Hookup' Held By Two Women

MONTREAL (AP) — Two Montreal women spend at least 90 minutes a day speaking to each other on the telephone.

Susan Sauve and Claire Bernier deliberately try to talk as long as they can. Their conversations are bilingual and both are well on the way to being fluent in each other's native tongue.

Mrs. Bernier, the French-speaking partner, is a switchboard operator. She has never met Miss Sauve.

Despite her French name, Miss Sauve is the daughter of English - speaking parents.

"Not being able to see the other person, I find it easier to forget my own shyness and inhibitions," she said.

Money Pumped Down The Drain In Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — More money goes down the drain in this country than most people would believe.

A new banknote disposal installation used by the South African Reserve Bank gets rid of old banknotes by pumping them into the municipal sewage system.

Previously the money went up in smoke. The bank used to burn old notes in an incinerator, but there was always the danger of the building catching fire.

The new plant will crush annually about 80 tons of old banknotes worth the equivalent of 100 million pounds ($280 million). The crushed paper is mixed with water and then pumped into the sewage system.

Lengthy Goodbye

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Cressweller, secretary of the Colorado Senate, estimated it cost $565.80 to print what is believed to be the longest bill ever introduced in the legislature. It is 276 printed pages and provides for removing all references to justices of the peace from state statues.

With Few Windows

PUNAT, Yugoslavia (AP) — Most houses on the northern Adriatic island of Krk have few windows, and Napoleon is blamed for it. During his rule over the area there was a tax based on the number of windows. Residents took to putting up homes with as few windows as possible, and the old custom still persists.

The A's Have It

ATHENS (AP) — Forty per cent of the 218 movie houses in Athens have names beginning with the letter A such as Apollo, Attica, Athinai, Anna and Anixis. The reason: they want to get their names as near as possible to the top of the alphabetical list of movie house film offerings in the daily newspapers.

4 Of 6 Born Aug. 2

OMAHA (AP) — Aug. 2 is an important date on the Hollie Prince family calendar. On that date Mrs. Prince gave birth to a boy, Gene Everett. Gene is the fourth of the six Prince children to be born on Aug. 2. The other Aug. 2 children are twin girls, now 11, and a boy, 7.

Heart Attack Fatal

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — William K. McInally, 58, an alternate delegate to the Democratic National Convention, died Saturday of a heart attack at his home. An attorney, he was a director of several firms and a member of the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Smith was arrested for failure to stop in the assured clear distance, while Kissinger was cited for lack of parking lights.

JOSEPH THOMAS Samay, 27, of Atwater, was cited for excessive speed when his westbound auto went left of center and struck the auto driven by Charles Curtis, 64, of Harker Ave., East Liverpool, on State Route 558, about three miles west of East Palestine, at 12:25 p.m. Sunday.

A car operated by Paul C. Wolfe, 44, of Lisbon, was struck in the rear by one driven by Darwin Dingey, 43, of 615 W. 9th St., East Liverpool, about 10:50 a.m. Sunday on Route 30, two and half miles east of Lisbon.

The patrol said Wolf was slowing to make a left turn when hit by the Dingey auto. Dingey was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

THE car of Donald L. Custer, 18, of Lisbon slammed into a bridge abutment on State Route 518 at 3:15 Sunday and the patrol said he was pulling out of a service station and hit his brakes when he saw an on-coming car, causing him to slide into the bridge.

A car driven by John Slagle, 20, of Negley shot through a service station on Township Road 356, returned to the road then went left of center, striking the car of Ambrose Grafton, 63, of 1206 Avondale St., East Liverpool. Slagel was cited for driving left of center.

A car driven by Walter Neal Thompson, 22, of Rogers skidded off Township Road 893, half a mile east of Roue 30, and overturned in a ditch about 5:30 p.m. Sunday. He was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

—:—

LESLIE PAUL Kent, 18, of Sebring was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after he slammed into the rear of the car driven by Frances L. Wicks, 42, of Minerva at the intersection of Route 9 around 4:30 p. m. Sunday. The Wicks auto had stopped.

The auto operated by Mrs. Theresa Cekada, 58, of Barberton, struck the rear of a car driven by Richard Thanes, 26, of Akron about two miles north of East Liverpool on Route 30 Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Thanes had stopped for a stop sign. She was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

No Blame On Age

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Two automobiles cracked together at an intersection close by the driver's licensing bureau. Both cars were driven by beginners. One was 66 and the other 16.

Language 'Hookup' Held By Two Women

MONTREAL (AP) — Two Montreal women spend at least 90 minutes a day speaking to each other on the telephone.

Susan Sauve and Claire Bernier deliberately try to talk as long as they can. Their conversations are bilingual and both are well on the way to being fluent in each other's native tongue.

Mrs. Bernier, the French-speaking partner, is a switchboard operator. She has never met Miss Sauve.

Despite her French name, Miss Sauve is the daughter of English - speaking parents.

"Not being able to see the other person, I find it easier to forget my own shyness and inhibitions," she said.

Money Pumped Down The Drain In Africa

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — More money goes down the drain in this country than most people would believe.

A new banknote disposal installation used by the South African Reserve Bank gets rid of old banknotes by pumping them into the municipal sewage system.

Previously the money went up in smoke. The bank used to burn old notes in an incinerator, but there was always the danger of the building catching fire.

The new plant will crush annually about 80 tons of old banknotes worth the equivalent of 100 million pounds ($280 million). The crushed paper is mixed with water and then pumped into the sewage system.

Lengthy Goodbye

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Cressweller, secretary of the Colorado Senate, estimated it cost $565.80 to print what is believed to be the longest bill ever introduced in the legislature. It is 276 printed pages and provides for removing all references to justices of the peace from state statues.

With Few Windows

PUNAT, Yugoslavia (AP) — Most houses on the northern Adriatic island of Krk have few windows, and Napoleon is blamed for it. During his rule over the area there was a tax based on the number of windows. Residents took to putting up homes with as few windows as possible, and the old custom still persists.

The A's Have It

ATHENS (AP) — Forty per cent of the 218 movie houses in Athens have names beginning with the letter A such as Apollo, Attica, Athinai, Anna and Anixis. The reason: they want to get their names as near as possible to the top of the alphabetical list of movie house film offerings in the daily newspapers.

4 Of 6 Born Aug. 2

OMAHA (AP) — Aug. 2 is an important date on the Hollie Prince family calendar. On that date Mrs. Prince gave birth to a boy, Gene Everett. Gene is the fourth of the six Prince children to be born on Aug. 2. The other Aug. 2 children are twin girls, now 11, and a boy, 7.

Heart Attack Fatal

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — William K. McInally, 58, an alternate delegate to the Democratic National Convention, died Saturday of a heart attack at his home. An attorney, he was a director of several firms and a member of the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Gem-Wise
Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

By
J. A. LOCKE, JR.
Member American Gem Society

VALUE OF JEWELS

What makes for value in a gem? This is a question fine jewelrs are often asked by their customers. Briefly, we may divide our answer into four parts: 1—Beauty, 2—Durability, 3—Rarity, and 4—Fashion.

Beauty of the stone is all-important. It is the main reason jewels have been a favored adornment since earliest times when primitive man fastened them to leather thongs so they could be worn as a girdle. Without beauty, the gem is of no interest except possibly to a collector or scientist.

Durability is essential because it means that a stone is hard and tough enough to resist wear so that it will retain its beauty through the years. Rarity will affect price since gems in copious supply must necessarily have a different market value than those that are extremely scarce. Fashion often dictates the popularity and desirability of a gem at a particular time. Leaders of society and women of national importance frequently set the current vogue for a gem by wearing it.

It is all of these factors, plus the Quality of each, that regulates the price per carat of every gemstone. However, smart purchasers know that there are also certain gemological characteristics affecting value. Over the years, they have come to rely upon member firms in the American Gem Society to help them make a wise, enduring choice. Our firm is proud to be among them.

Arrangements Workshop Held For City Garden Club

An arrangements workshop preceded the meeting of the East Liverpool Garden Club Friday with Mrs. Leo C. Lawrence of Midway Ln.

Mrs. Dorothy Kountz and Mrs. Anna Patterson conducted the event in conjunction with the 39th annual Dahlia and Flower Show to be presented Sept. 26-27 at Westgate School.

A cookout followed the afternoon session with husbands as guests. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Robert Hay and Mrs. Janet Moore.

Contests were conducted by Mrs. John Keller with prizes going to Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, Mrs. Frank Richmond and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Lawrence president, presided for business when further plans were discussed concerning the flower show.

Mrs. Clarence Green screened color slides of the spring flower show at Phipps Conservatory in Pittsburgh, pictures of Beaver Creek State Park and local shots.

Due to a conflict with the flower show, the next session is scheduled Oct. 2 instead of Sept. 25. There will be election of officers and disclosure of secret pals during business. Mrs. Verna Boulton will be associate hostess.

Wellsville Society

Miss Ruth Urie LE 2-2288

Mrs. Marilyn DeFalco won high score award when WPA 500 Club members were entertained Friday night by Mrs. Vivian Bratt of Wells Ave. extension.

Hollywood Rings As Beatles Make Debut At Bowl

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The hills were alive with the sound of screaming Sunday night as the Beatles made their local debut at Hollywood Bowl.

It was a wild scene, man.

The hillside amphitheater, ordinarily the home of symphonies under the stars, was packed to the highest reaches with emotion-wracked adolescents.

The crowd of almost 19,000 sat restlessly through preliminary acts of rock 'n' roll personalities. Finally, the Beatles appeared, jaunty under their floor-mop hairdos. Pandemonium.

The quartet breezed through their famous songs with scant regard for the shrieks that sounded almost continuously.

In exactly half an hour, their performance was over. They reportedly earned $50,000.

Gem-Wise
Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

By J. A. LOCKE, JR.
Member American Gem Society

VALUE OF JEWELS

What makes for value in a gem? This is a question fine jewelrs are often asked by their customers. Briefly, we may divide our answer into four parts: 1—Beauty, 2—Durability, 3—Rarity, and 4—Fashion.

Beauty of the stone is all-important. It is the main reason jewels have been a favored adornment since earliest times when primitive man fastened them to leather thongs so they could be worn as a girdle. Without beauty, the gem is of no interest except possibly to a collector or scientist.

Durability is essential because it means that a stone is hard and tough enough to resist wear so that it will retain its beauty through the years. Rarity will affect price since gems in copious supply must necessarily have a different market value than those that are extremely scarce. Fashion often dictates the popularity and desirability of a gem at a particular time. Leaders of society and women of national importance frequently set the current vogue for a gem by wearing it.

It is all of these factors, plus the Quality of each, that regulates the price per carat of every gemstone. However, smart purchasers know that there are also certain gemological characteristics affecting value. Over the years, they have come to rely upon member firms in the American Gem Society to help them make a wise, enduring choice. Our firm is proud to be among them.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: Since we have received so many questions about removing scorch, I thought it might be well to repeat this advice.

Some scorches are impossible to remove because the fibers have been burned. If applicable to the cotton fabric, dip a cloth in three per cent peroxide and use as a pressing cloth. A dry cloth may be used on top of this before pressing with a warm iron. Be SURE your material is colorfast.

Or: use bleach, following the directions on the label.

Or: as a last resort, try sanding the material lightly with fine sandpaper. This sometimes works. It only removes the burned fibers of the material. Some garment factories and cleaners use this method.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to have trouble cleaning the narrow space between my stove and cabinets.

I finally solved this problem with one of my husband's old T-shirts. I cut six inches off the bottom of the shirt and stretched it over the length of a yardstick.

It makes a perfect cleaning device for getting into those hard-to-reach, small places.

MRS. J. C. SARTER.

DEAR HELOISE: I pinked the bottom of my shower curtain just the way you told me to. . .to prevent mildew.

I hate you because it is still in such good condition that I can't ask my husband for a new curtain!

ELIZABETH

DEAR GALS: Elizabeth evidently read the letter I wrote about three years ago, suggesting that you pink the bottom of a shower curtain, rather than hem it.

The reason for this? It is usually in the hem (where water has seeped in) that mildew and mold grow to rot the shower curtain.

But, honey, please don't hate me!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When you make nylon net bags for soap scraps, tuck in a small piece of sponge. Keeps the bag floating and readily available.

M. W. B.

And it does. Imagine something so simple and yet so fantastic! Absolutely great.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If the plastic heels on your shoes become scuffed or scratched, try using a little bit of model paint. It is made for plastic, and covers the scratches nicely.

I use a little piece of cotton on a toothpick (it is better than a cotton swab) to apply the paint.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: If anyone has a cloth slipcover that slides down on the sofa, tell them to put a thin, foam rubber mattress pad (not covered with material) under the slipcover.

The slipcover will never slide and the mattress pad makes the sofa softer, too.

If it is a sofa bed, the pad can be bought to fit almost perfectly.

A READER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Hearing Resumes On Vindicator's Injunction Bid

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A hearing was to resume today before Common Pleas Court Judge Forrest Cavalier on a request by the strike - bound Youngstown Vindicator for a temporary injunction to limit picketing. The newspaper also seeks to prevent alleged intimidation to employes crossing the picket line.

Officials of striking Local 11, American Newspaper Guild, have denied anyone has been intimidated, and the Guild's attorneys have contended the National Labor Relations Board, not the court, has jurisdiction in the matter.

The Vindicator published an eight-page edition with comic and magazine sections Sunday. Traffic jams developed around the plant as a result of people wanting to get at an initial 5,000-copy run.

Two teenagers scuffled in a dispute concerning the amount of papers one was taking. Both were treated at a hospital and were to appear in juvenile court today.

Veteran Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Charles Stevens, 71, veteran actor known by face to millions and by name to few, died Saturday. Known to Hollywood as "Indian Joe," Stevens was a grandson of the famed Apache chief Geronimo. Stevens had been in pictures since 1914.

Weirton Steel Aide Will Address Rotary

John A. Jones, director of public relations at the Weirton Steel Co., and a prominent civic and political figure in Hancock County's largest city, will address the Rotary Club at Tuesday's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

George A. Shaw, business manager of The Review, will introduce the speaker as program chairman.

Jones was named one of West Virginia's presidential electors last week at the state Republican convention in Clarksburg, only the second Hancock County resident in history to be given the honor.

He was named director of public relations at Weirton Steel Co., diversion of National Steel Corp. July 1, 1959, after serving as assistant to the manager of industrial relations.

JOHN A. JONES
Heads Public Relations.

He attended public schools in Weirton, was graduated from Weir High School in 1922 and studied journalism at Ohio State University. From 1928 to 1931, he was editor of the Weirton Daily Times.

Later, he held editorial positions on newspapers in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Philadelphia. He joined Weirton Steel in 1943 and was named editor of the Weirton Steel Employes Bulletin in 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are world travelers and have shared their experiences with Americans on many lecture platforms. In 1953 they completed a 12,000-mile journey through Europe, including a trip behind the Iron Curtain.

In 1955, they made a 21,000-mile trip that took them to almost every country in East Asia. They made other trps to the continent in 1957 and 1962.

Jones was named president of the Board of Directors of the new $400,000 Mary H. Weir Public Library in 1958. He is also a director of the Weirton Hospital Co. and a deacon of the First Christian Church.

The employes bulletin won national honors consistently under the editorship of Jones. It has been awarded the Freedoms Foundation Gold Medal every year since 1949. The 1949 medal was personally presented to Jones by President Eisenhower.

Jones is also a member of the Civil Rights Commission of West Virginia and the National Editorial Board of Boy Scouts of America. He holds an honorary degree of doctor of laws from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich., and other honorary citations.

The speaker is expected to discuss in part the economic role of Weirton Steel in the northern part of the county, including Chester and Newell.

3-Day Workshop Opens For Teachers In Hancock

Getting the jump on the pupils by a full week, Hancock County's teachers returned to "school" today for a three-day workshop featuring lectures and discussions at Weir High School in Weirton.

Officials expected 480 teachers when the workshop opened this morning on the theme, "The Individual and the School." This was also the topic of the opening address by Supt. Robert H. Hall.

An orientation workshop was held last week for new and beginnng teachers in the school system. Regular classes for pupils open next Monday, Aug. 31.

New and beginning teachers were introduced this morning, followed by a lecture on "Modern Concepts In Languages" by Dr. Robert L. Allen, associate professor of English and foreign languages at Columbiana University.

Mrs. Marie Murray, supervisor of the division of special services for the Pittsburgh public school system, was to talk this afternoon on approaches to mental health and education.

Tuesday's program will begin with a panel discussion on "Vital Statistics — a Profile on the Hancock County Student." Elementary and secondary teachers will then be separated for lectures.

The afternoon session will feature a lecture on elementary music by Dr. Thomas Wickstrom, supervisor of music education for the West Virginia Department of Education. Dr. Delmas Miller, chairman - director of University High School in Morgantown, will give an evaluation of the independent research program in a panel discussion for students and teachers.

Charles McKinney, assistant county superintendent, will lecture on "Curriculum Evolution, Or Revolution" Wednesday morning. In the afternoon, John Swayze of Columbia University will give a talk on "The 8-mm. Revolution."

The workshop will close with a summation titled "The Future Is Here — A Program of Progress in Action for Hancock County 1964-65," by Supt. Hall.

Red Party Aide Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Benjamin J. Davis, 60, national secretary of the Communist party of the United States, died Saturday after a long illness. Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: Since we have received so many questions about removing scorch, I thought it might be well to repeat this advice.

Some scorches are impossible to remove because the fibers have been burned. If applicable to the cotton fabric, dip a cloth in three per cent peroxide and use as a pressing cloth. A dry cloth may be used on top of this before pressing with a warm iron. Be SURE your material is colorfast.

Or: use bleach, following the directions on the label.

Or: as a last resort, try sanding the material lightly with fine sandpaper. This sometimes works. It only removes the burned fibers of the material. Some garment factories and cleaners use this method.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I used to have trouble cleaning the narrow space between my stove and cabinets.

I finally solved this problem with one of my husband's old T-shirts. I cut six inches off the bottom of the shirt and stretched it over the length of a yardstick.

It makes a perfect cleaning device for getting into those hard-to-reach, small places.

MRS. J. C. SARTER.

DEAR HELOISE: I pinked the bottom of my shower curtain just the way you told me to. . .to prevent mildew.

I hate you because it is still in such good condition that I can't ask my husband for a new curtain!

ELIZABETH

DEAR GALS: Elizabeth evidently read the letter I wrote about three years ago, suggesting that you pink the bottom of a shower curtain, rather than hem it.

The reason for this? It is usually in the hem (where water has seeped in) that mildew and mold grow to rot the shower curtain.

But, honey, please don't hate me!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When you make nylon net bags for soap scraps, tuck in a small piece of sponge. Keeps the bag floating and readily available.

M. W. B.

And it does. Imagine something so simple and yet so fantastic! Absolutely great.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If the plastic heels on your shoes become scuffed or scratched, try using a little bit of model paint. It is made for plastic, and covers the scratches nicely.

I use a little piece of cotton on a toothpick (it is better than a cotton swab) to apply the paint.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: If anyone has a cloth slipcover that slides down on the sofa, tell them to put a thin, foam rubber mattress pad (not covered with material) under the slipcover.

The slipcover will never slide and the mattress pad makes the sofa softer, too.

If it is a sofa bed, the pad can be bought to fit almost perfectly.

A READER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The people next door drink a lot. For two years we have put up with their endless fighting and hollering.

My husband and I don't care what the two adults do to one another but we are deeply concerned about their four young children.

We've heard the children screaming at all hours of the day and night. Last week while working in the yard the 7-year-old girl came over to talk to me. She was wearing a short-sleeved blouse and I saw bruises and strap - marks on her arms. I asked her what had happened. She said, "Mama hit me because I was bad and took two extra cookies."

Last night the 17-month-old boy was taken to the hospital with a cut on his hand. This morning the mother told me he had fallen out of the high chair. This hardly seems likely at midnight.

We believe these parents come home drunk and beat their children. What should we do about it? My brother (who is a lawyer) advised us not to get involved and to mind our own business. How about it? — A MOTHER, TOO.

-:-

Dear Mother, Too: One of the symptoms of the sickness of our society is the way people are "minding their own business" these days. It is appalling, shocking and inhuman.

People who turn their heads because they don't want to get "involved" are worse than gutless — they are heartless.

You and your husband should report the neighbors to the juvenile authorities at once. They will investigate and determine whether or not the parents have been abusing the children.

Thousands of little ones are maimed and crippled every year by brutal parents because neighbors (like you) who could put an end to the brutality continue to "mind their own business."

Rude Awakening

Dear Ann: Our daughter Penelope was invited to an elegant party which took place last night. She was terribly excited about it since it was her first formal.

Penelope laid out her gown, shoes, purse and gloves three days in advance.

This morning she came to the breakfast table with a long face. I asked what was the matter. She said, "There were four gowns at the party exactly like mine — two in other colors, but it was horrible. Lots of the girls whispered and giggled about it."

Penelope's gown was not inexpensive. The price was $35. What should I have said to my daughter? Frankly, I was stumped. — WORDLESS.

Dear Wordless: You should have told your daughter that in tense or embarrassing situations a sense of humor can be a life saver.

A few years ago Mrs. Henry Ford and the Duchess of Windsor appeared at the same affair in identical gowns — both fabulously expensive "originals." If it could happen to them it can happen to anybody. And so what?

Confidentially

TO SHOULD I OR SHOULDN'T I?: It's your nose and your life. It's how you feel that counts and you don't feel good about it, so go ahead and make the alteration.

TO FULL OF HOPE: If your friend finds comfort and strength in the philosophy, why ridicule it or attempt to "open her eyes to reality?" Maybe it isn't rational to you but if it helps her, it's good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

If Your Child Shows Signs Of Stuttering

Many little children, when learning to talk, repeat words or parts of words. When this repetition becomes clearly noticeable to anybody it is called stuttering. Parents who notice the repetition may grow concerned and try in all sorts of ways to curb it—telling the child not to do it, interrupting him to have him speak more slowly or to say the "stuttered" word or words after them.

Dr. Garry Myers

Any such procedure tends to make the child self - conscious and can easily cause him to become a serious stutterer.

—:—

SOMETIMES stuttering begins suddenly in the young child, or indeed, an older child, following an emotional shock or fright, or because of other less apparent emotional tensions or frustrations — jealousy of a younger child or unhappy relations with a playmate, to name two.

The whole family atmosphere may provide the cause. All little children under four or five seem to be potential stutters.

If you notice that your child repeats words or parts of words, or falters in speech, try not to let him know of your concern. Strive to act as if you did not notice his irregularity of speech.

Listen patiently, but don't watch his mouth or hold your breath, "hoping he will make it." You need to evince relaxation then.

IF, HOWEVER, he is struggling to find a word, your saying it nonchalantly for him might be desirable. But if he feels you want to hurry him, he will be hampered.

So the big problem is for you to manage your own emotions. Try to set the stage so he will enjoy communication with you in a climate of serenity and comfort. Provide him with a cheerful family atmosphere of love and affection.

Study your ways of guiding and managing him. Look into his relationship to other members of the family and to his outside playmates. Protect him from being teased and bullied by other children.

See that he has ample interest and activity, does not grow over - excited and over-stimulated, and gets proper rest and sleep. Keep in touch with his physician. Also, you parents may need to check with your own physician in order to cultivate good physical and emotional health.

Read a great deal to this child. Thus you give him patterns of good speech and more to think about and talk about.

—:—

IN GENERAL, we help prevent or correct stuttering in anybody not by working on the mechanics of his speech, but by working on ourselves and him so he may feel more comfortable when he speaks.

The foregoing suggestions and principles apply also to the child of any age who has been stuttering for months or years.

Obviously, the earlier we can apply them the more we can do to prevent or correct stuttering. Parents of little children under three, four or five years of age can do most to reduce the number of older children adults who stutter, for most stuttering begins before the child enters school.

Fortunately, many young children who begin to stutter do "grow out of it," in spite of their parents. Yet the risk is too great to trust to luck.

If all parents of young children would take these simple matters into consideration, there might some day be almost no stuttering children or adults.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The people next door drink a lot. For two years we have put up with their endless fighting and hollering.

My husband and I don't care what the two adults do to one another but we are deeply concerned about their four young children.

We've heard the children screaming at all hours of the day and night. Last week while working in the yard the 7-year-old girl came over to talk to me. She was wearing a short-sleeved blouse and I saw bruises and strap - marks on her arms. I asked her what had happened. She said, "Mama hit me because I was bad and took two extra cookies."

Last night the 17-month-old boy was taken to the hospital with a cut on his hand. This morning the mother told me he had fallen out of the high chair. This hardly seems likely at midnight.

We believe these parents come home drunk and beat their children. What should we do about it? My brother (who is a lawyer) advised us not to get involved and to mind our own business. How about it? — A MOTHER, TOO.

-:-

Dear Mother, Too: One of the symptoms of the sickness of our society is the way people are "minding their own business" these days. It is appalling, shocking and inhuman.

People who turn their heads because they don't want to get "involved" are worse than gutless — they are heartless.

You and your husband should report the neighbors to the juvenile authorities at once. They will investigate and determine whether or not the parents have been abusing the children.

Thousands of little ones are maimed and crippled every year by brutal parents because neighbors (like you) who could put an end to the brutality continue to "mind their own business."

Rude Awakening

Dear Ann: Our daughter Penelope was invited to an elegant party which took place last night. She was terribly excited about it since it was her first formal.

Penelope laid out her gown, shoes, purse and gloves three days in advance.

This morning she came to the breakfast table with a long face. I asked what was the matter. She said, "There were four gowns at the party exactly like mine — two in other colors, but it was horrible. Lots of the girls whispered and giggled about it."

Penelope's gown was not inexpensive. The price was $35. What should I have said to my daughter? Frankly, I was stumped. — WORDLESS.

Dear Wordless: You should have told your daughter that in tense or embarrassing situations a sense of humor can be a life saver.

A few years ago Mrs. Henry Ford and the Duchess of Windsor appeared at the same affair in identical gowns — both fabulously expensive "originals." If it could happen to them it can happen to anybody. And so what?

Confidentially

TO SHOULD I OR SHOULDN'T I?: It's your nose and your life. It's how you feel that counts and you don't feel good about it, so go ahead and make the alteration.

TO FULL OF HOPE: If your friend finds comfort and strength in the philosophy, why ridicule it or attempt to "open her eyes to reality?" Maybe it isn't rational to you but if it helps her, it's good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

If Your Child Shows Signs Of Stuttering

Many little children, when learning to talk, repeat words or parts of words. When this repetition becomes clearly noticeable to anybody it is called stuttering. Parents who notice the repetition may grow concerned and try in all sorts of ways to curb it—telling the child not to do it, interrupting him to have him speak more slowly or to say the "stuttered" word or words after them.

Dr. Garry Myers

Any such procedure tends to make the child self - conscious and can easily cause him to become a serious stutterer.

—:—

SOMETIMES stuttering begins suddenly in the young child, or indeed, an older child, following an emotional shock or fright, or because of other less apparent emotional tensions or frustrations — jealousy of a younger child or unhappy relations with a playmate, to name two.

The whole family atmosphere may provide the cause. All little children under four or five seem to be potential stutters.

If you notice that your child repeats words or parts of words, or falters in speech, try not to let him know of your concern. Strive to act as if you did not notice his irregularity of speech.

Listen patiently, but don't watch his mouth or hold your breath, "hoping he will make it." You need to evince relaxation then.

IF, HOWEVER, he is struggling to find a word, your saying it nonchalantly for him might be desirable. But if he feels you want to hurry him, he will be hampered.

So the big problem is for you to manage your own emotions. Try to set the stage so he will enjoy communication with you in a climate of serenity and comfort. Provide him with a cheerful family atmosphere of love and affection.

Study your ways of guiding and managing him. Look into his relationship to other members of the family and to his outside playmates. Protect him from being teased and bullied by other children.

See that he has ample interest and activity, does not grow over - excited and over-stimulated, and gets proper rest and sleep. Keep in touch with his physician. Also, you parents may need to check with your own physician in order to cultivate good physical and emotional health.

Read a great deal to this child. Thus you give him patterns of good speech and more to think about and talk about.

IN GENERAL, we help prevent or correct stuttering in anybody not by working on the mechanics of his speech, but by working on ourselves and him so he may feel more comfortable when he speaks.

The foregoing suggestions and principles apply also to the child of any age who has been stuttering for months or years.

Obviously, the earlier we can apply them the more we can do to prevent or correct stuttering. Parents of little children under three, four or five years of age can do most to reduce the number of older children adults who stutter, for most stuttering begins before the child enters school.

Fortunately, many young children who begin to stutter do "grow out of it," in spite of their parents. Yet the risk is too great to trust to luck.

If all parents of young children would take these simple matters into consideration, there might some day be almost no stuttering children or adults.

Killed In Collision

DEERFIELD, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. Thirza Fromm, 75, of Dayton, Ohio, was killed Sunday and six persons were injured in a two-car collision at the Ind. 28-U.S. 27 intersection here.

It's a good idea to have two pastry brushes; one may be used for meats and similar dishes, and one for desserts. This way there's no chance of incompatible flavors mixing!

Ohio Elks Set 1965 Meeting At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Elks Association will hold its 1965 convention here from April 29 through May 2. This was decided Sunday before members of the Ohio group wound up its 35th fall conference. Also approved was a state golf tournament at Columbus' Stoney Creek Country Club Sept. 26-27.

The Elks approved a youth leadership contest with awards totaling $6,000 and a $3,600 scholarship, in addition to $7,000 in grants to aid in cerebral palsy treatment in Tiffin, Lancaster, Warren, Newark and Cincinnati.

STATE OF OHIO, COUNTY OF COLUMBIANA, SS:
IN THE PROBATE COURT
Case Number 58694-A

PAUL TOBIN, Administrator De Bonis Non With the Will Annexed of the Estate of DESSIE OVADA STOFFEL, Deceased, Plaintiff vs DOLORES I. BLACKBURN, RONALD EDWARD STOFFEL, ALICE EDGELL, Defendants.

RONALD EDWARD STOFFEL, a minor, who while a resident of the State of Ohio resided with Alice Edgell at Riverside Park, East Liverpool, Ohio, but whose known place of residence now is General Delivery, Goshen, New York, will take notice that on the 21st day of August, 1964, the Plaintiff, Paul Tobin, Administrator d.b.n. with the Will Annexed of the Estate of Dessie Ovada Stoffel, deceased, filed his petition against him in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being Case Number 58694-A, for the purpose of selling the real estate described below to pay debts of said estate.

Said property is described as follows:

Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being the West One-Half (½) of Lot Number Eight (8), as said Lot is numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of Homeland, as laid out by the heirs of George Fisher, deceased, in said Township.

Grantor acquired the foregoing real estate by Deed recorded in Volume 675, Page 257, Columbiana County, Ohio, Deed Records.

TRACT II:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being a part of Lot Number Two (2), as said Lot is numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of Pickal's "Jethro" Addition to said City, and being more fully described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Lot 15 in the said Pickal's "Jethro Addition"; thence south 10° 29' East a distance of 81.88 feet to a point; thence South 42° 03' West a distance of 50.2 feet to a point thence North 23° 11' West 29.8 feet to a point; thence South 83° 31' West 42.55 feet to a point; thence North 3° 01' West 83.5 feet to a point in the southerly line of Lot 13, said point being south 83° West 17.1 feet from the southeasterly corner of the said Lot 13 in said Pickal's "Jethro" Addition, thence along the southerly line of Lots 13, 14 and 15 in said Addition, North 82° East 77.1 feet to the place of beginning.

Subject, however, to a right-of-way heretofore reserved and included in a conveyance from Dessie O. Stoffel to Thomas Ward and Bertha Ward, their heirs and assigns, as described in Volume 877, Page 43, of the Columbiana County Deed Records and described as follows: Commencing at the southeast corner of the said Lot 13, and running south 82° West 17.1 feet to a point; thence south 3° 01' East 83.5 feet to a point; thence North 83° 31' East 42.55 feet to a point, and place of beginning of the reservation of the right-of-way herein described; thence from said place of beginning, North 83° 31' East 40 feet to a point in the southeasterly line of lands of Grantors; thence with said line South 42° 03' West 15.10 feet to a point; thence south 83° 31' West 25.69 feet to a point; thence North 23° 11' West 10.44 feet to the place of beginning.

Being a part of the same premises described in Volume 753, Page 111 of the Columbiana County Deed Records.

The prayer of said Petition is for authorization for said Administrator De Bonnis Non with the Will Annexed to sell said property described above and to apply the proceeds of said sale for the payment of debts.

Said Defendant, Ronald Edward Stoffel, is required to answer said Petition on the 5th day of Oct., 1964, or judgment will be taken against him.

5 Are Disqualified For Miss U.S. Pageant

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — The week-long Miss United States beauty pageant opens tonight minus five lovelies.

Pageant officials disqualified them because they do not live in the states they represented — Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Robert Schaub, the pageant attorney, said all five lived in Massachusetts. Winner of the Miss United States title will be selected Friday.

1 Killed, 1 Injured In One-Car Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — John Dawson, 17, of Rittman (Wayne County) was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding left U. S. 250 south of Wilmot and crashed near the Stark-Tuscarawas County line.

The driver, Sonja Hollinger, 20 also of Rittman, was taken to Massillon City Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Double Hit-Run Kills Youth, 14, In West Virginia

By The Associated Press

At least two West Virginians died over the weekend in state highway accidents, including a double hit-and-run that killed a 14-year-old Mineral County boy.

The deaths pushed the state's 1964 highway death toll to 279, compared with 231 a year ago.

Terry Davis, of Keyser, was killed Saturday when struck twice by two hit-and-run cars on U. S. 220 near his home.

William R. Whetzel, 23, of Piedmont, was arrested on charges of hit-and-run, a misdemeanor. State Police were still looking Sunday for the driver of the second car. Police said Whetzel's car allegedly ran over the boy after he was hit by the first car.

Miley B. McClung, 83, of Hines, Greenbrier County, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on U. S. 60 north of Lewisburg.

Police said McClung's car apparently was turning onto the highway at the time of the crash. He died about an hour later at Greenbrier Valley Hospital at Ronceverte.

In a drowning accident, the body of Virgil Belcher, 47, of Elkview was recovered Sunday from the New River north of Beckley. He drowned after his boat capsized late Saturday.

LEGAL NOTICES

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF OHIO, COUNTY OF COLUMBIANA, SS:
IN THE PROBATE COURT
Case Number 58694-A

PAUL TOBIN, Administrator De Bonis Non With the Will Annexed of the Estate of DESSIE OVADA STOFFEL, Deceased, Plaintiff vs DOLORES I. BLACKBURN, RONALD EDWARD STOFFEL, ALICE EDGELL, Defendants.

RONALD EDWARD STOFFEL, a minor, who while a resident of the State of Ohio resided with Alice Edgell at Riverside Park, East Liverpool, Ohio, but whose known place of residence now is General Delivery, Goshen, New York, will take notice that on the 21st day of August, 1964, the Plaintiff, Paul Tobin, Administrator d.b.n. with the Will Annexed of the Estate of Dessie Ovada Stoffel, deceased, filed his petition against him in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being Case Number 58694-A, for the purpose of selling the real estate described below to pay debts of said estate.

Said property is described as follows:

Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being the West One-Half (½) of Lot Number Eight (8), as said Lot is numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of Homeland, as laid out by the heirs of George Fisher, deceased, in said Township.

Grantor acquired the foregoing real estate by Deed recorded in Volume 675, Page 257, Columbiana County, Ohio, Deed Records.

TRACT II:

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being a part of Lot Number Two (2), as said Lot is numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of Pickal's "Jethro" Addition to said City, and being more fully described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Lot 15 in the said Pickal's "Jethro Addition"; thence south 10° 29' East a distance of 81.88 feet to a point; thence South 42° 03' West a distance of 50.2 feet to a point thence North 23° 11' West 29.8 feet to a point; thence South 83° 31' West 42.55 feet to a point; thence North 3° 01' West 83.5 feet to a point in the southerly line of Lot 13, said point being south 83° West 17.1 feet from the southeasterly corner of the said Lot 13 in said Pickal's "Jethro" Addition, thence along the southerly line of Lots 13, 14 and 15 in said Addition, North 82° East 77.1 feet to the place of beginning.

Subject, however, to a right-of-way heretofore reserved and included in a conveyance from Dessie O. Stoffel to Thomas Ward and Bertha Ward, their heirs and assigns, as described in Volume 877, Page 43, of the Columbiana County Deed Records and described as follows: Commencing at the southeast corner of the said Lot 13, and running south 82° West 17.1 feet to a point; thence south 3° 01' East 83.5 feet to a point; thence North 83° 31' East 42.55 feet to a point, and place of beginning of the reservation of the right-of-way herein described; thence from said place of beginning, North 83° 31' East 40 feet to a point in the southeasterly line of lands of Grantors; thence with said line South 42° 03' West 15.10 feet to a point; thence south 83° 31' West 25.69 feet to a point; thence North 23° 11' West 10.44 feet to the place of beginning.

Being a part of the same premises described in Volume 753, Page 111 of the Columbiana County Deed Records.

The prayer of said Petition is for authorization for said Administrator De Bonnis Non with the Will Annexed to sell said property described above and to apply the proceeds of said sale for the payment of debts.

Said Defendant, Ronald Edward Stoffel, is required to answer said Petition on the 5th day of Oct., 1964, or judgment will be taken against him.

5 Are Disqualified For Miss U.S. Pageant

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — The week-long Miss United States beauty pageant opens tonight minus five lovelies.

Pageant officials disqualified them because they do not live in the states they represented — Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Robert Schaub, the pageant attorney, said all five lived in Massachusetts. Winner of the Miss United States title will be selected Friday.

1 Killed, 1 Injured In One-Car Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — John Dawson, 17, of Rittman (Wayne County) was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding left U. S. 250 south of Wilmot and crashed near the Stark-Tuscarawas County line.

The driver, Sonja Hollinger, 20 also of Rittman, was taken to Massillon City Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Double Hit-Run Kills Youth, 14, In West Virginia

By The Associated Press

At least two West Virginians died over the weekend in state highway accidents, including a double hit-and-run that killed a 14-year-old Mineral County boy.

The deaths pushed the state's 1964 highway death toll to 279, compared with 231 a year ago.

Terry Davis, of Keyser, was killed Saturday when struck twice by two hit-and-run cars on U. S. 220 near his home.

William R. Whetzel, 23, of Piedmont, was arrested on charges of hit-and-run, a misdemeanor. State Police were still looking Sunday for the driver of the second car. Police said Whetzel's car allegedly ran over the boy after he was hit by the first car.

Miley B. McClung, 83, of Hines, Greenbrier County, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on U. S. 60 north of Lewisburg.

Police said McClung's car apparently was turning onto the highway at the time of the crash. He died about an hour later at Greenbrier Valley Hospital at Ronceverte.

In a drowning accident, the body of Virgil Belcher, 47, of Elkview was recovered Sunday from the New River north of Beckley. He drowned after his boat capsized late Saturday.

Fair Of New Cumberland Lions Club Opens Thursday

NEW CUMBERLAND — The New Cumberland Lions' Club Community Free Fair will open Thursday and run for three days, with entertainment and exhibits.

Saturday has been designated as Homecoming Day, and an old - fashioned square dance is planned for that evening. Saturday afternoon at 2 the annual pet show will be held, and at 3:30 the doll show. These events are being directed by the Young Women's Club of New Cumberland.

Among the musical entertainment will be concerts by the Oak Glen High School Band, Dixieland Band of the American Federation of Music, and singing groups from this area.

Exhibits are being entered by the Fairview Grange, 4-H Clubs, Farm Women's Club and industrial and commercial displays.

The club sponsors the fair each year as a community service project and all entertainment, as well as admission to the grounds, is free. Free prizes are given each evening.

Charles Miller is chairman and John D. Herron and Raymond Ewing co-chairmen.

Funeral's Today For Girl Slain In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — After a weekend during which the village's mood changed from worry to horror and then grief, suburban Fairfax began returning to normal today.

The funeral of little Debbie Dappen, 4, was scheduled for 2:30 p. m. in Fairfax Presbyterian Church, while the Hamilton County Juvenile Court was continuing its investigation of George Rickey Jr., 13.

Police say young Rickey has admitted he stabbed and choked Debbie to death last Wednesday after luring her into his home. The Rickeys live only a block from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl L. Dappen, Debbie's parents.

The brown-haired child's disappearance started a frantic search that ended shortly before midnight Friday when a reporter found her body under the Rickeys' porch. Police roused young Rickey, and his admission came less than an hour later.

Under Ohio law, juveniles can be referred to regular courts and tried as adults, but this has been seldom done in Cincinnati.

400 Children Attend Picnic Given By VFW

Some 400 Chester youngsters attended a "back - to - school" picnic sponsored by Chester VFW Post 6450 Sunday afternoon at Chester City Park.

Three "greased pig chases" were featured, along with races and games. The post furnished soft drinks, hot dogs and popsicles and prizes for winners. Janice Cornell, Mark McDonald and Dave Jackson won large stuffed animals.

William Maple was chairman, and assisting were Jed Wilson, Dick Shingler, George McGarren, Willis Friley, Fred Morris, George Allison, Perry Huff and Bob Milby.

GOP Women's Club To Staff Booth At Fair

The East Liverpool Republican Women's Club will staff the Gop booth at the County Fair on Sunday, Mrs. Ruth Crawford, president, said today.

Women from other county clubs will be in charge on other days.

The city club will meet Sept. 1 at the Travelers Hotel when Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, will speak, Mrs. Crawford announced.

Long Illness Fatal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A. W. Shipton, 70, a former president of Copley Press, Inc., died Sunday at home after a long illness. A native of Elgin, Ill., he began his newspapering career in 1917. He retired as Copley president in 1961.

Small fry like cream cheese that has been beaten with a drop or two of red food coloring. They can use the "pink cheese" as a spread for bread or crackers.

Vegetables, Fruits Reflect Cool Weather

The recent cool weather has had its influence in the supplies of fruits and vegetables reaching the market, according to Mahoning County Co-operative Extension Service, which said the temperature was advantageous to some local fruit crops although it slowed maturity of some vegetables.

There are more cantaloupe, watermelon, grapes, nectarines, peaches and plums available. Michigan potatoes and sweet potatoes have increased in volume while some sweet corn quality is improved.

Features on protein foods are more varied this week. Fryers continue to lead the list, for cool weather increased the demand for red meats and some prices advanced.

Shipments of Thompson Seedless grapes are heavier this week, quality is exceptional and prices have declined. The first of the good crop of homegrown Concord grapes should reach market in two weeks.

Redskin and Elberta peaches are due by the end of the month and for the first time there will be more Redskins and a declining popularity of the old favorite Elberta.

The first of a record crop of Bartlett pears is beginning to appear.

Ohio potatoes are rolling in heavy volume, prices are dropping and larger units are appearing. Rain and cool weather slowed down harvest and supplies may be smaller than earlier expected. However, they will still be more abundant.

Louisiana sweet potatoes have increased in volume and quality along with homegrown eggplant. Sweet corn supplies are about steady. Choice small-kernel varieties are now beginning. Many of the other locally grown vegetables continue to be plentiful and economical.

Lettuce prices are somewhat higher as rain hurt some of the local stocks and California quality has gone down. Recent hot weather slowed down supplies of both broccoli and cauliflower.

Christian Business Men Plan Fair Booth

Plans to operate a booth at the County Fair were completed at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Christian Business Men's Committee Saturday at the Rescue Mission.

At least two members of the CBMC will be on duty each day at the booth which will provide water and a resting place for fair visitors.

Delmar O'Hara and Frank Fluno, co-chairmen, said a work party will meet at the fairgrounds Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. Members not yet assigned have been asked to contact O'Hara or Fluno.

Delmas Sanford, chairman, presided and conducted devotions. Lunch was served by Mrs. Emmett Lawrence and Mrs. Carl Mansfield.

Congo Opens Drive For Enlisting Whites

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Premier Moise Tshombe's Congo government has opened a drive here to enlist young whites to fight communist-backed Congolese rebels.

Applicants found physically fit are flown to the Congo to reinforce regular army units at salaries up to $280 a month.

Tshombe used white mercenaries in leading the Katanga secession.

Gives Berlin Pledge

BERLIN (AP) — The new U.S. commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. John F. Franklin, arrived today and pledged that Americans will "continue to meet aggression with courage and firmness."

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, 80-year-old dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals, begins a 10-day journey today to Mexico's provinces.

Minerva District Boy Wins County Tractor Contest

LISBON — Glen Whiteleather won the Columbiana County 4-H tractor contest Sunday and will demonstrate his skill at the Ohio State Fair Friday at Columbus.

Glen, 17, of Minerva R.D. 2 drove to victory in the annual contest at the Gause Implement, Inc., near Guilford.

Winning the county contest puts young Whiteleather one step closer to the goal of participating in the Eastern United States 4-H tractor operators' contest sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service and the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

Winner at the state contest will participate at the Virginia State Fair at Richmond, in the regional 4-H tractor operators contest, Sept. 27-29. Twenty-five states are expected to enter champion operators.

Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Whiteleather, who operate a farm near Minerva. He has been a 4-H club member for six years and participated in the 4-H Tractor Club for several years. He acquired his operating skill on the home farm where he is responsible for servicing the farm machinery and doing a substantial part of the field work.

Other finalists in the contest were Jay Denny of Salem R.D. 2, Dean Farmer of Salem R.D. 3, and Robert Crosser, Dennis Weaver, Phil Hippely and Larry Hippely, all of Lisbon R.D. 4.

Tarragon vinegar and capers, used together, will enhance the flavor of an oil-and-vinegar dressing for salad.

Movie Writer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Louis Pollock, 60, movie writer credited with "The Jackie Robinson Story" and a version of "The Lady and the Tramp," died Sunday in his home. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — John Cof, 37, of Lisbon R. D. 1 forfeited a $15 appearance bond Sunday night in Mayor Dean Stockman's court on charges of improper passing. Cof was cited early Sunday morning by police.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Is Sitting Pretty On TV

During the past 24 weeks June Lockhart has sat on 37 panel game shows. At an average of $500 per show, June is sitting pretty and says she loves every minute of it.

Hal Humphrey

"I made my living from shows in the early '50s, before I went with 'Lassie.' One of the first was 'Who Said That?' and I sat on the panel with H. V. Keltenborn, Merriman Smith, Bob Considine and Red Smith," June recalls. With all of this panel sitting, June naturally has learned a number of tricks, which is one of the reasons she always is in demand by the producers of these shows.

-:-

"FOR A WOMAN, the important thing is how she looks from the waist up, or really, just from the bosom up. I like a gown with a ruffle in the back of the neckline and cut low in front. It must be attractive to every male viewer and not offensive to the female viewers," explains June.

Her panel gowns are either pure white or a dark color to insure that she doesn't blend in with the usually neutral curtains used for set backgrounds.

"Earrings are very important. They should be long ones, and dramatic but not distracting. If they catch the light and reflect it, that's not good," June advises.

Her architect - husband, John Lindsay, designs many of June's earrings. At last counting, she had 30 pairs — all long and dramatic.

ON PANEL SHOWS with better-than-average budgets, June says an "eye light" is placed on the desk in front of each panelist.

"This eliminates those terrible shadows around the nose and neck. Otherwise you must be sure your makeup is done differently. I usually do my own makeup," June reports.

When June knows that another woman will be a panel mate she tries to find out what she'll be wearing, especially if it's some panel-wise doll like Zsa Zsa Gabor.

"One doesn't get coy with Zsa Zsa. I simply call her up and ask, 'Darling, what are you going to wear tonight?' And she tells me."

LIKE ZSA ZSA, June prefers talking with her hands in motion. This necessitates long fingernails ("They're graceful") and the right kind of rings ("Diamonds are lovely!").

A "chic" hairdo is a must. June always makes the hairdresser her last stop before checking in at the studio.

Reckless rumors circulate about what women panelists wear below the waist. They could go barefoot, or wear tennis shoes, because nobody sees the lower half anyway.

"I couldn't do that. If I wore tennis shoes it would affect me mentally. I do think it's senseless to wear a girdle, however. Unless, of course, you are introduced from the wings and must walk to your chair," qualifies June.

AS FOR PLAYING the game, June believes one must do it "with abandon and a sense of the ridiculous."

"One rule I stick to is not to interrupt the other panelists — unless you've something very funny to say," she warns.

Last week June was taking a break from her panel sitting to play the role of a rich socialite suspected of murder in a "Perry Mason" episode being filmed for next season.

She had to get her mink out of storage in Pasadena (a natural habitat for mink) to dress the part.

-:-

"IT WAS the first time I've had my mink out since becoming Lassie's mamma, and it felt good," says June. "I've decided I'll be the fur-bearing animal from now on."

What with her panel shows, TV commercials and an occasional fur - bearing dramatic role, June considers she is living the "full, rich life," as she puts it.

TV Logs Dropped During Convention

Beginning today, all major television networks will devote virtually their entire programing schedule to coverage of the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City.

Because of the repetitious nature of scheduling which will result, The Review will suspend publication of the daily TV log while the convention is in session.

Woman, 24, Among 300 In Chicago Police Training

CHICAGO (AP) — Coeds who are wont to calculate the male-to-female ratio might envy Virginia Rakocinski's situation: 300 to 1 and she's the one.

But the subjects she studies are a far cry from the usual coed fare — jujitsu, narcotics, criminal law and pistol shooting.

Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston, is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating.

"I'm here to study," she said, "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

She already has met one challenge: she topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on the Skokie police department. Skokie is a suburb served by the Chicago police training school.

A graduate of Mundelein College in Chicago, with a degree in chemistry, Miss Rakocinski quit a job in the radioactive research department of a Skokie pharmaceutical firm.

U.S. Agents Seized Record $7.2 Million In Bogus Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service reports it seized a record $7.2 million in counterfeit currency during the year ended June 30.

Of the known bogus currency, agents confiscated $11 out of every $12 before it was passed.

Chief James J. Rowley of the Secret Service reported that agents uncovered 44 counterfeit plants and arrested 737 persons during the year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher pay and good assignments are twin lures being offered by the State Department to boost the supply of U.S. diplomats who can speak one of 29 difficult languages.

The higher pay may be up to $1,000 additional a year. The promise of good assignments could lead to an ambassadorship.

The incentive program is aimed at getting 1,000 officers — one fourth of the U.S. diplomatic corps — equipped with one of the native languages of remote countries.

Only about 600 U.S. career diplomats now meet this qualification.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat imports will be kept 15 per cent below last year's record level under a bill signed by President Johnson Saturday.

The bill sets a basic import limit of 725,400,000 pounds per year of fresh, chilled or frozen beef, goats and sheep, except lambs.

Washington Burglars Get $50,000 In Furs

WASHINGTON (AP) — An extensive burglar alarm system and a steel door in the back failed to prevent burglars stealing nearly $50,000 in furs from a Connecticut Avenue store, the French Poodle.

The burglars broke into an office above the store, owned by Mrs. Alvin Epstein. They cut a hole through the ceiling of the shop, lowered themselves with a rope or rope ladder, and made away early Sunday with furs valued by the owner at nearly $50,000.

Industry PTA Board To Buy Tape Recorder

The purchase of a tape recorder for the Logan School at Ohio View was principal project chosen for the 1964-65 school term when the Executive Board of the Industry Parent-Teacher Association met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jerome McCreery of Ohio View Dr.

It was also announced that treats will be given children of the room with the best attendance at the 1964-65 PTA meetings.

Next board meeting is Sept. 21 with Mrs. Stephen Hazy and Mrs. Fred Novak as hostesses.

Cause Sought In Car Crash Fatal To Five

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A coroner sought to determine today why a recently divorced father and his four young children lost their lives in a one-car smashup described as one of the worst in this northern Ohio area.

The accident occurred Sunday as the 26-year-old father was taking the children, ranging in age from two to seven, to a store to buy them toys. He had taken them for a ride each Sunday afternoon since obtaining his divorce three weeks ago.

The southbound convertible in which the victims were riding veered off a straightaway stretch on Ohio 58 six miles west of Elyria. It rolled off the berm and went 91 feet before slamming into a concrete abutment supporting a railroad overpass.

Dragged dead from the twisted wreckage in which the front of the car was pushed nearly flush with the windshield were Ronald Pandy, of Lorain, and his children, Debbie, 7, Daniel, 5, David, 4, and Dennis, 2.

Gloria Pandy, 24, mother of the dead children, learned of the tragedy shortly after returning from an overnight trip to Pennsylvania with friends.

Coroner Paul J. Kopsch said an autopsy may show if Pandy suffered a heart attack or some other injury which caused him to lose control of his car.

The coroner said a note found on the father's body and addressed to his ex-wife indicated he was despondent over his recent marital problems.

Deputy Sheriff Ronald Brotherton said Pandy's car was traveling about 60 miles an hour, the legal limit, and there was no evidence that he tried to apply his brakes.

Columbus Man, Wife Killed, 6 Injured In Crash

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus man and wife were killed and six other persons — five of them children—were injured in a two-car head-on crash late Sunday night on a rural road near Lithopolis in northwest Fairfield County.

Killed were Ernest Bullock, 58, and his wife, Hazel, 54. Their five grandchildren, the children of a son, John Bullock, Rt. 3, Thornville, were injured, but none was considered in critical condition.

Three of the children, Richard, 12, John, 10, and Nana, 8, were taken to Childrens' Hospital in Columbus. Another child, Deborah, 14, was to undergo surgery for leg fractures today at Grant Hospital in the Capital City. The fifth youngster, Robert, 15, was taken to Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital in Lancaster.

The driver of the other car, Thomas R. Swartz, 17, of Carroll was treated and released at Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Is Sitting Pretty On TV

During the past 24 weeks June Lockhart has sat on 37 panel game shows. At an average of $500 per show, June is sitting pretty and says she loves every minute of it.

Hal Humphrey

"I made my living from shows in the early '50s, before I went with 'Lassie.' One of the first was 'Who Said That?' and I sat on the panel with H. V. Keltenborn, Merriman Smith, Bob Considine and Red Smith," June recalls. With all of this panel sitting, June naturally has learned a number of tricks, which is one of the reasons she always is in demand by the producers of these shows.

-:-

"FOR A WOMAN, the important thing is how she looks from the waist up, or really, just from the bosom up. I like a gown with a ruffle in the back of the neckline and cut low in front. It must be attractive to every male viewer and not offensive to the female viewers," explains June.

Her panel gowns are either pure white or a dark color to insure that she doesn't blend in with the usually neutral curtains used for set backgrounds.

"Earrings are very important. They should be long ones, and dramatic but not distracting. If they catch the light and reflect it, that's not good," June advises.

Her architect - husband, John Lindsay, designs many of June's earrings. At last counting, she had 30 pairs — all long and dramatic.

-:-

ON PANEL SHOWS with better-than-average budgets, June says an "eye light" is placed on the desk in front of each panelist.

"This eliminates those terrible shadows around the nose and neck. Otherwise you must be sure your makeup is done differently. I usually do my own makeup," June reports.

When June knows that another woman will be a panel mate she tries to find out what she'll be wearing, especially if it's some panel-wise doll like Zsa Zsa Gabor.

"One doesn't get coy with Zsa Zsa. I simply call her up and ask, 'Darling, what are you going to wear tonight?' And she tells me."

LIKE ZSA ZSA, June prefers talking with her hands in motion. This necessitates long fingernails ("They're graceful") and the right kind of rings ("Diamonds are lovely!").

A "chic" hairdo is a must. June always makes the hairdresser her last stop before checking in at the studio.

Reckless rumors circulate about what women panelists wear below the waist. They could go barefoot, or wear tennis shoes, because nobody sees the lower half anyway.

"I couldn't do that. If I wore tennis shoes it would affect me mentally. I do think it's senseless to wear a girdle, however. Unless, of course, you are introduced from the wings and must walk to your chair," qualifies June.

AS FOR PLAYING the game, June believes one must do it "with abandon and a sense of the ridiculous."

"One rule I stick to is not to interrupt the other panelists — unless you've something very funny to say," she warns.

Last week June was taking a break from her panel sitting to play the role of a rich socialite suspected of murder in a "Perry Mason" episode being filmed for next season.

She had to get her mink out of storage in Pasadena (a natural habitat for mink) to dress the part.

-:-

"IT WAS the first time I've had my mink out since becoming Lassie's mamma, and it felt good," says June. "I've decided I'll be the fur-bearing animal from now on."

What with her panel shows, TV commercials and an occasional fur - bearing dramatic role, June considers she is living the "full, rich life," as she puts it.

Sad But True, Beer Shortage In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — It's sad but true. There's a beer shortage in Moscow.

"People are wandering around looking for beer," said a reporter for the newspaper Moskovskaya Pravda.

What's the trouble? Moscow's four breweries aren't brewing enough and what is brewed isn't all taken, says the paper.

Beverages are sold at 9,500 places in Moscow but only 92 sell beer in addition to 105 beer wagons.

What Moscow really needs, the paper adds, is 300 or 400 stores that stock beer.

New England Shivers In Cold Rain And Fog

By The Associated Press

New England shivered in cold rain and fog today and thundershowers pelted an arc across the northern Plains.

Much of the nation enjoyed fair skies and the Weather Bureau said the outlook was good for widespread sunshine.

Hurricane Cleo, leaving 14 dead on the French island of Guadaloupe, sideswiped Puerto Rico's coast and headed toward southwestern Haiti and parts of the Dominican Republic.

Besides showers early today in Nebraska, Minnesota and Montana, rains fell in areas from southern Texas to the middle Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures, the weather bureau said, were nothing out of the ordinary.

Ceiling tiles are easy to apply as well as being decorative — which explains their continued popularity with do-it-yourselfers.

But don't overlook other ways in which the ceilings of extra rooms can be made attractive.

For a luxury look, wood paneling can't be beat. Some interesting effects can be obtained with plywood, especially with striated squares. Gypsum board makes an inexpensive ceiling. Hardboard produces a smooth ceiling and is easy to paint.

Wallpaper is very effective. Textured fabrics also can be used. Even ordinary canvas is striking in certain types of playrooms. There are dozens of ways to make a ceiling attractive or different or both — or whatever you want it to be.

PAINTING wicker furniture with a brush can be a tedious job because of the extra care that must be taken to see that paint gets to all the strands of wickerwork.

A much better way to paint wicker furniture is with a sprayer. It does not have to be a large one. Any of the small, inexpensive ones will do. But be sure the paint is thinned just right.

Too thick a mixture will clog the sprayer; too thin will cause the paint to run. Do the spraying outdoors and kepe the item being sprayed on a bench or table. If you keep it on the ground, the air pressure from the sprayer will disturb the dust and spoil the result.

—:—

CUTTING foam rubber with a scissors will be easier if the blades of the scissors are occasionally dipped in water. When you are cutting foam rubber in order to put fabric over it, cut the rubber about one-quarter of an inch oversize. When the fabric is put over it, a slightly oversize piece of rubber will fit more snugly.

—:—

WHEN DOING any puttying, keep handy a small pad of steel wool moistened with linseed oil. Clean the blade of the putty knife with the steel wool. As you continue with the puttying, wipe off the knife frequently.

This serves a double purpose. It keeps the blade clean and it provides a small but constant supply of linseed oil to the putty, making it easier to work and preventing it from drying out too quickly.

Tips Are Offered On Home Needs

Question: A patio at the rear of our house is being enclosed. At the same time, we're having some outside wiring done. Can 20-amp fusing be used for this?

Answer: According to the National Electrical Code, 20-amp fusing can be used on an outdoor circuit. However, some local codes forbid anything higher than 15 amps on a single circuit of this type. Since you say you're having the wiring done, presumably by a licensed electrician, you can be sure he will follow the local regulations.

Question: I have some scrap pieces of hardboard left over from a recent project. I understand blackboards can be made from this. Can you tell me how?

Answer: Just paint the smooth side of the hardboard with blackboard paint. Unfortunately, all paint dealers do not carry it, although most can get it for you.

If you wish, you can make your own blackboard paint with flat black paint and emery dust. Mix one teaspoon of emery dust to one pint of paint. Use two coats of this paint on the hardboard, sanding lightly between coats.

FHA Learns 'Dressing Up' Sells Houses

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a house won't sell, give it a fresh coat of paint, put on some fancy trimmings and landscape it a bit.

Real estate salesmen have been doing this for years.

Now the Federal Housing Administration has tried it out, and it worked like a charm.

Regional Director W. P. Wilcox discovered early this spring that he was stuck with 13 repossessed houses in the little town of Carol, north of Miami.

The FHA normally sells repossessed houses on exceptionally easy terms, but these just wouldn't sell.

Wilcox took his problem to the South Florida Chpater of the American Institute of Architects and the Miami Chapter of the Florida Nurserymen's and Gardeners' Association.

"What do these houses need?" he asked.

The architects and landscape experts told him.

Wilcox, at a cost of $23,000 for the 13 houses, did as they suggested. Then he put the houses back on the market — at higher prices that more than paid for the cost of mprovements.

Nine of the 13 houses sold within the first week they were put up for sale again.

Half-A-Bath Serves Need

Many new homes today offer the extra convenience of 1½, 2½ or 3½ bathrooms. But not everyone knows just what this "half-a-bath" is.

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago, half-a-bath usually is a bathroom without a tub, frequently called a "powder room". Because it contains only a water closet (toilet) and lavatory, it requires far less space, often only half as much as a conventional bathroom — hence, the name.

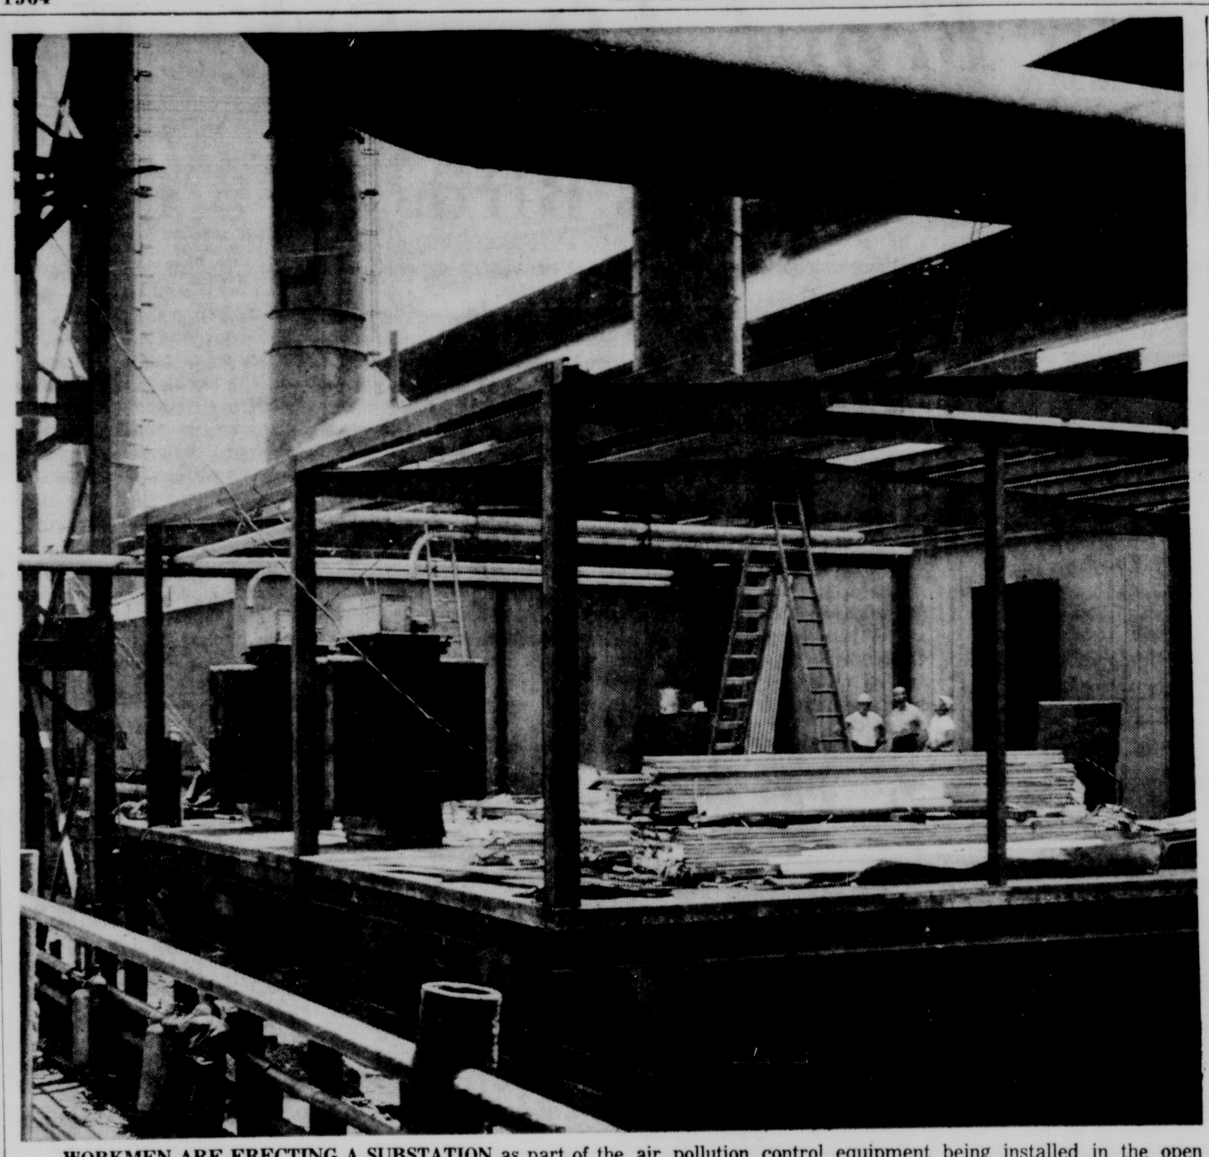
But though the half - bath needs less space, it's long on convenience and everyday use. Frequently located on the ground floor of the home, it is ideally suited for guest use.

It's also the spot where the kids can wash before meals and mother can quickly freshen up before answering the door. Here the children can wash and get ready for school in the morning while dad shaves in the bathroom.

Powder rooms are often a balm to family relationships, preventing lineups at the bathroom door, frayed nerves and tardiness.

The bureau advises that it isn't always necessary to move to a new home for powder room convenience, since one often can be installed right in the present home. A large closet, the end of a hallway, an old pantry, the space under a stairway — any such space is a good possibility for one. Qualified plumbing contractors are experts in locating the ideal place in any house.

Interested home owners can talk over the matter with a contractor and get his suggestions for the installations best suited for family needs.



WORKMEN ARE ERECTING A SUBSTATION as part of the air pollution control equipment being installed in the open hearth department at the Weirton Steel division of the National Steel Corp. The substation will house electrical transformers to supply power for electrostatic precipitators which will be installed to remove effluent from the furnace gases, for the vacuum degassing unit that will be installed as a part of the company's new mill and for other areas of the open hearth, including induced draft fans on the furnaces.

Dynamite Blast Kills Four Men

MEEKER, Colo. (AP) — Twenty-two sticks of dynamite exploded while four men worked on a flatbed truck preparing it for use in casing a northwestern Colorado oil well.

The blast "blew the men to pieces," Undersheriff Bob Kracht said.

An oil company representative discovered the bodies Sunday. Kracht said the tragedy may have occurred either Friday or Saturday.

Strewn along the bank of Piccance Creek, 50 miles southwest of Meeker, were the 22 dynamite wrappers.

The man, all from Vernal, Utah, were Charles McConkie, 35, his son Duane, 16, Robert Hatch, 27, and Houtz Ross, 44.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — William Cullen Battle, U.S. ambassador to Australia, leaves for the United States next Monday. He told reporters he is returning because the White House wants him for "some significant job" in the presidential campaign.

Battle said today he probably will handle a regional assignment in President Johnson's campaign similar to the work he did in the 1960 race for the late President John F. Kennedy.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Vana Heflin, 22, daughter of actor Van Heflin, is honeymooning today with Dennis O'Brien, a graduate student of architecture at the University of California at Berkeley.

They were married Sunday at the Heflin home.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — David O. McKay, 90, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, is reported resting comfortably in Latter-day Saints Hospital at Salt Lake City.

Officials of the hospital said McKay is showing "definite improvement" in his struggle to overcome effects of coronary thrombosis, suffered last week.

McKay is the spiritual leader of more than two million Mormons.

In Those Accepting Federal Funds

U.S. Takes Steps To Avoid Racial Bias In Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has taken broad steps to assure against any racial discrimination — "from here on out" — in private or public nonprofit hospitals accepting federal funds.

However, the new and strengthened regulations are not retroactive — and affect only hospitals which received funds since March 2 or will receive them in the future.

Opinions are being voiced — both from within and outside government circles — that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which prompted the new action regarding institutions supported by the Hill-Burton Act may have far-reaching impact on many other hospitals.

Some hospital authorities say it's conceivable that, aside from the Hill-Burton matter, certain private, nonprofit hospitals might fall within the purview of the new civil rights law even when they receive no financial assistance from the federal government.

The Hill-Burton program, enacted into law in 1946, is the brainchild of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and former Sen. Harold Burton, R-Ohio.

Under the program, federal grants or loans are made available to assist in constructing and equipping needed public and voluntary nonprofit hospitals and other facilities.

Since 1947, Congress has appropriated annually from $65 million to $220 million for this purpose. Appropriations are distributed to the states and territories according to a statutory formula based on population and relative per capital income.

As the basis of action already taken by the federal government regarding Hill-Brown hospitals is a ruling of a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, made last Nov. 1. The ruling was that any hospital accepting Hill-Burton construction funds must open its staff and facilities to everyone, regardless of race.

This case, now known as the "Simkins" case, involved two hospitals in Greensboro, N.C. — the Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital and the Wesley Long Community Hospital.

A group of Negroes, including physicians, dentists and patients, brought the suit against the hospitals with the aid of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's legal defense and educational fund. The U.S. Department of justice intervened on behalf of the fund.

The majority opinion of the court said the "separate but equal" clause in the Hill-Burton law was a violation of both the 5th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Those amendments provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

The court also held that a hospital constructed with Hill-Burton aid may not, on account of race or color, deny hospital admission to patients or hospital staff privileges to physicians and dentists.

Right after the decision was handed down — and before the Supreme Court had made its ruling — Secretary Anthony Celebrezze of the Health, Education and Welfare Department directed that no further "separate but equal" facilities be approved. His department administers the Hill-Burton law.

But, following the Supreme Court's action, the Hill-Burton regulations were further revised — striking out the separate but equal clause, and including the following statement:

"Before a construction application is recommended by a state agency for approval, the state agency shall obtain assurance from the applicant that all portions and services of the entire facility for the construction of which, or in connection with which, aid under the federal act is sought, will be made available without discrimination on account of race, creed or color; and that no professionally qualified person will be discriminated against on account of race, creed or color with respect to the privilege of professional practice in the facility."

Dr. Harald M. Graning, an assistant surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, told a reporter that, aside from the striking of the separate but equal clause from the regulations, the revisions strengthen the antidiscrimination provisions of the Hill-Burton law in this way:

In the past, the only assurance required of applicants — other than those applying under the separate but equal clause — was one providing for the admission of patients without discrimination as to race, creed or color.

"There was no assurance in the past," he said, "that professional staff would be admitted without discrimination. Neither was there assurance against segregation within the facility itself. For example, under the old regulations, a hospital could have a ward within the hospital that would have only Negroes.

"Under the new regulations, all portions of the entire facility — the old part as well as the newly constructed one — must be open to all."

But Dr. Graning said "there is nothing retroactive" about the new regulations.

"They apply only," he said, "to hospitals we give assistance to from here on out — that is, beginning with March 2, the date of the Supreme Court's action."

However, as regards admission of patients, he said this:

"The only hospitals that do not have to admit Negroes are the very few that were built as 'white' hospitals under the separate but equal clause. And the separate but equal projects constitute less than one per cent of the hospitals to which we have given assistance under the law."

Crash Of Truck Injures 5 Ohio Army Reservists

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A military truck crash on a mountain road has left five Army Reservists from Ohio injured.

They were returning to Fremont, Ohio, from Camp Pickett, Va., Saturday when the tractor-trailer truck hit a median, jacknifed and rolled over along U. S. 40 on Summit Mountain five miles east of Uniontown. State police said something apparently went wrong with the brakes.

Police identified the injured, all of the 223rd Ordinance Co., 20th Corps, as:

Spec. 4 Laverne John Fish, 22, of Clyde, driver, fair condition; Spec. 4 Myron Behring, 27, Rocky Ridge, fair; Pfc. Richard Queen, 19, Clyde, serious; Pvt. Charles Barnett, 22, West Salem, fair, and Pvt. Duane Lipps, 23, Wooster, treated and released.

Hundreds Attend Carnival Windup

Several hundred persons attended the closing events of the Calcutta fire department's carnival Saturday, when the Larry Myers Dance Studio and Deputies Ronnie Gause and Robert McAbee of the county sheriff's office, sharp - shooters, gave free entertainment.

Firemen said attendance at the week - long carnival was between 3,000 and 4,000 persons. Proceeds will be used towards purchase of a new water tank truck. The old tanker is still in service after repair to leaks.

Prize winners were John Paul of East Liverpool, Ray Neidengard of Oakmont, Lena Simko of East End, Helen Steele and Bruce Mays of Calcutta.

Gold Smuggling Ring Smashed In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese authorities said today they had broken a gold smuggling ring and arrested four U.S. Air Force enlisted men and eight Vietnamese.

A U.S. spokesman said all the enlisted men were charged with being couriers for the ring between Hong Kong and Saigon. Their names were withheld.

Half-A-Bath Serves Need

Many new homes today offer the extra convenience of 1½, 2½ or 3½ bathrooms. But not everyone knows just what this "half-a-bath" is.

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago, half-a-bath usually is a bathroom without a tub, frequently called a "powder room". Because it contains only a water closet (toilet) and lavatory, it requires far less space, often only half as much as a conventional bathroom — hence, the name.

But though the half - bath needs less space, it's long on convenience and everyday use. Frequently located on the ground floor of the home, it is ideally suited for guest use.

It's also the spot where the kids can wash before meals and mother can quickly freshen up before answering the door. Here the children can wash and get ready for school in the morning while dad shaves in the bathroom.

Powder rooms are often a balm to family relations hips, preventing lineups at the bathroom door, frayed nerves and tardiness.

The bureau advises that it isn't always necessary to move to a new home for powder room convenience, since one often can be installed right in the present home. A large closet, the end of a hallway, an old pantry, the space under a stairway — any such space is a good possibility for one. Qualified plumbing contractors are experts in locating the ideal place in any house.

Interested home owners can talk over the matter with a contractor and get his suggestions for the installations best suited for family needs.

Dynamite Blast Kills Four Men

MEEKER, Colo. (AP) — Twenty-two sticks of dynamite exploded while four men worked on a flatbed truck preparing it for use in casing a northwestern Colorado oil well.

The blast "blew the men to pieces," Undersheriff Bob Kracht said.

An oil company representative discovered the bodies Sunday. Kracht said the tragedy may have occurred either Friday or Saturday.

Strewn along the bank of Piccance Creek, 50 miles southwest of Meeker, were the 22 dynamite wrappers.

The man, all from Vernal, Utah, were Charles McConkie, 35, his son Duane, 16, Robert Hatch, 27, and Houtz Ross, 44.

In Those Accepting Federal Funds

U.S. Takes Steps To Avoid Racial Bias In Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has taken broad steps to assure against any racial discrimination — "from here on out" — in private or public nonprofit hospitals accepting federal funds.

However, the new and strengthened regulations are not retroactive — and affect only hospitals which received funds since March 2 or will receive them in the future.

Opinions are being voiced — both from within and outside government circles — that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which prompted the new action regarding institutions supported by the Hill-Burton Act may have far-reaching impact on many other hospitals.

Some hospital authorities say it's conceivable that, aside from the Hill-Burton matter, certain private, nonprofit hospitals might fall within the purview of the new civil rights law even when they receive no financial assistance from the federal government.

The Hill-Burton program, enacted into law in 1946, is the brainchild of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and former Sen. Harold Burton, R-Ohio.

Under the program, federal grants or loans are made available to assist in constructing and equipping needed public and voluntary nonprofit hospitals and other facilities.

Since 1947, Congress has appropriated annually from $65 million to $220 million for this purpose. Appropriations are distributed to the states and territories according to a statutory formula based on population and relative per capital income.

As the basis of action already taken by the federal government regarding Hill-Brown hospitals is a ruling of a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, made last Nov. 1. The ruling was that any hospital accepting Hill-Burton construction funds must open its staff and facilities to everyone, regardless of race.

This case, now known as the "Simkins" case, involved two hospitals in Greensboro, N.C. — the Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital and the Wesley Long Community Hospital.

A group of Negroes, including physicians, dentists and patients, brought the suit against the hospitals with the aid of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's legal defense and educational fund. The U.S. Department of justice intervened on behalf of the fund.

The majority opinion of the court said the "separate but equal" clause in the Hill-Burton law was a violation of both the 5th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Those amendments provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

The court also held that a hospital constructed with Hill-Burton aid may not, on account of race or color, deny hospital admission to patients or hospital staff privileges to physicians and dentists.

Right after the decision was handed down — and before the Supreme Court had made its ruling — Secretary Anthony Celebrezze of the Health, Education and Welfare Department directed that no further "separate but equal" facilities be approved. His department administers the Hill-Burton law.

But, following the Supreme Court's action, the Hill-Burton regulations were further revised — striking out the separate but equal clause, and including the following statement:

"Before a construction application is recommended by a state agency for approval, the state agency shall obtain assurance from the applicant that all portions and services of the entire facility for the construction of which, or in connection with which, aid under the federal act is sought, will be made available without discrimination on account of race, creed or color; and that no professionally qualified person will be discriminated against on account of race, creed or color with respect to the privilege of professional practice in the facility."

Dr. Harald M. Graning, an assistant surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, told a reporter that, aside from the striking of the separate but equal clause from the regulations, the revisions strengthen the antidiscrimination provisions of the Hill-Burton law in this way:

In the past, the only assurance required of applicants — other than those applying under the separate but equal clause— was one providing for the admission of patients without discrimination as to race, creed or color.

"There was no assurance in the past," he said, "that professional staff would be admitted without discrimination. Neither was there assurance against segregation within the facility itself. For example, under the old regulations, a hospital could have a ward within the hospital that would have only Negroes.

"Under the new regulations, all portions of the entire facility — the old part as well as the newly constructed one — must be open to all."

But Dr. Graning said "there is nothing retroactive" about the new regulations.

"They apply only," he said, "to hospitals we give assistance to from here on out — that is, beginning with March 2, the date of the Supreme Court's action."

However, as regards admission of patients, he said this:

"The only hospitals that do not have to admit Negroes are the very few that were built as 'white' hospitals under the separate but equal clause. And the separate but equal projects constitute less than one per cent of the hospitals to which we have given assistance under the law."

Robinson Sparks Birds To 3 Of 4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's odd, but Brooks Robinson is at hs best in even-numbered years.

This year he's better than ever and has a better than even chance of being named the American League's most valuable player — if Baltimore wins the pennant.

Robinson tried to see to that, sparking the Orioles to three victories in four weekend games with Chicago. Baltimore won their third straight 7-3 Sunday before the White Sox salvaged the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The split left the Orioles 1½ games ahead of the White Sox, who led by one-half game before the series started.

Robnson lashed three hits in Sunday's opener, scoring two runs, and drove in the Orioles' lone run in the second game. In the previous two games, Robinson knocked in two runs in Friday's 4-2 triumph and slammed a three-run homer that won Saturday's game by the same score.

His over - all performance, eight hits in 16 times at bat, increased the 27-year-old third baseman's batting average seven points to .308, his home run total to 22 and his runs batted in to 85.

Robinson reached his best RBI mark in 1960 when he drove in 88 runs. He dipped to 61 the next season but rose to 86 in 1962 when he also hit 23 homers and batted .303, his best marks in those categories prior to this season.

But the oddity struck again as he plummeted to a .251 average last year with only 11 homers and 67 RBI.

In other AL games Sunday, New York edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland took Los Angeles 6-4 and 3-2, Washington lost to Kansas City 3-1 before winning 8-5 and Minnesota nipped Detroit 6-5, then lost 5-2.

One of Robinson's three hits in the opener was a key single in the Orioles' four-run outburst in the fifth inning. It was another Robinson, Earl, who singled in two of the runs. The rally helped rookie Wally Bunker to his 13th victory against only three defeats.

Gary Peters pitched the White Sox to the second - game triumph, scattering seven hits for his 14th victory in 21 decisions. Chicago scored all of their runs in the seventh. Floyd Robinson triggered the rally with a single and eventually scored on a wild throw by Sam Bowens.

Johnny Blanchard and Mickey Mantle each drove in two runs as the Yankees continued their recovery from a six-game losing streak. Blanchard brought in Roger Maris with sacrifice flies in the sixth and in the eighth while Mantle unloaded a two-run homer in the third.

Bob Tillman doubled and scored for Boston in the seventh and homered in the ninth.

Cleveland swept its second straight doubleheader from the Angels. Rookie Luis Tiant pitched a six-hitter for his seventh victory in nine decisions in the opener. Bob Chance belted three hits and drove in two runs for the Indians.

John Romano singled across two runs in Cleveland's three-run third in the nightcap. The rally was aided by pitcher Dan Osinski's throwing error. Felix Torres homered for the Angels.

Willie Kirkland led the Senators to their second-game victory over the Athletics, lashing a two-run single in a five-run fourth inning and slamming a solo homer in the seventh.

John Wyatt preserved Diego Segui's victory in the first game, striking out pinch hitters Don Zimmer and Chuck Hinton with the tying runs on base in the ninth inning. Bill Bryan homered for the Athletics' decisive run in a two-run fifth.

Hank Aguirre won his third game of the season and his first since July 1, stopping the Twins on five hits in the second game. Bill Freehan hit two homers and Gates Brown and Don Demeter one each for the Tigers.

Tony Oliva's run-scoring single in the ninth inning won the opener for the Twins after Don Mincher tied the game in the eighth with a grand slam homer. Jerry Lumpe and Dick McAuliffe clouted two-run homers for Detroit.

Allen Wrecks Bucs, Phils Lead By 7½

Phillies Star Eyes Rookie, MVP Honors

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen, Philadelphia's hard - hitting third baseman, wears orange shoes, four-button suits and sports jackets with buckles in the back.

Now he's trying to stick a couple of feathers in his cap.

A leading contender for both Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player honors, the stand-out dresser and outstanding third baseman belted two homers and a single, driving in four runs Sunday as the National League leading Phillies walloped Pittsburgh 9-3.

The performance lifted Allen's batting average to .313, gave him 23 homers and 66 runs batted in, and once again shot him front and center as a distinct possibility to become the first rookie in major league history to win the MVP award.

Allen, whose chief competition for MVP honors might come from teammates John (All-Star Hero) Callison and Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, hit a two-run homer against the Pirates in the third inning, hit a solo homer in the fifth and singled home a run in the eighth

Bunning, who went seven innings, benefited from the support, bringing his record to 14-4 with a 2.17 earned run average despite being tagged for homers by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon.

The victory boosted the Phillies lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Phil Ortega's three-hitter 1-0 while the Giants edged St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings.

In other games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings and 5-4 and Houston beat Milwaukee 7-1 in a night game.

Ortega, who hadn't pitched a complete game since May 19, brought his record to 6-5 by keeping the Reds in check. The Dodgers, meanwhile, scored their only run against Jim O'Toole, 13-6, in the second inning on a double by Nate Oliver and Dick Tracewski's single.

The Cardinals pulled into a tie with the Giants on Lou Brock's homer in the eighth but lost it in the 10th when Jesus Alou scored from third on Dal Maxville's error.

Alou started the inning with a single, moved up on a bunt, raced to third on Tom Haller's long fly and scored when Maxville let Harvey Kuenn's grounder get away from him.

The Mets won the opener in the 10th after George Altman led off with a double and took third on a grounder. Ron Hunt and Joe Christopher then were walked intentionally, setting up a force at any base, but Ed Kranepool ruined the stretegy with a well-placed single to left.

The Cubs tried the same thing in the ninth inning of the nightcap and again lost while the Mets won their seventh in eighth games. Bobby Klaus singled and wound up on third with one out. Christopher and Altman were walked purposely, but one out later, Charlie Smith singled in the clincher.

Larsen, who hadn't pitched a complete game since July 2, 1959 when he was with the New York Yankees, allowed the Braves only five hits and retired 18 batters in a row at one stretch as the Colts scored their third straight over the Braves.

Pony League Playoff To Begin Wednesday

The Pony League playoffs scheduled to open tonight will begin Wednesday and the starting time has been moved up to 5:45 p.m. The playoff will continue Thursday and on Friday if necessary.

Whittington Hurls No-Hitter

South Side Nine To Play In Title Game Wednesday

Craig Whittington of Newell pitched a no-hit game in one of two victories over the weekend as the South Side Junior All-Star team advanced to the finals of the Robinson Township Lions Club Tournament.

South Side will be one of two teams from a starting field of 40 which will play Wednesday at 9 p.m. for the championship.

—:—

THE SOUTH SIDE Stars will meet the winner of tonight's West-View Ross-Bethel Park game. Last year, South Side was eliminated in the first round but has gone all the way to the finals in its second attempt.

On Saturday, Whittington, one of the top hurlers in the league this past season, twirled his masterpiece and almost turned in a perfect game. He gave up one walk to spoil his bid for the perfect contest.

WHITTINGTON'S no - hitter came in a 1-0 victory over Sto-Ken-Rox which developed into a pitcher's duel all the way.

Whittington fanned 13 batters on his way to the no-hitter while Dandrea, a southpaw, allowed only one hit and struck out 14 batters.

Vic Reed proved the hero of the contest when he got the only hit off Dandrea in the fourth inning. He moved to second on a walk then took third on a passed ball.

—:—

REED SCORED the only run of the game when a pitched ball got away from the catcher who retrieved it in time but could not get the sliding Reed who twisted around the catcher to score.

South Side came back to post its fourth straight victory of the tournament with a 4-3 win over the Carnegie Americans Sunday night.

The three runs by Carnegie marked the first time South Side had been scored on in the tourney.

SOUTH SIDE scored two runs in the first, one in third and one in the fourth. Vic Reed was the winning pitcher and fanned eight batters walked four and gave up only four hits.

Reed, Whittington, Larry Anderson and Tom Smith had two hits each in South Side's nine-hit attack with Whittington driving in two runs on a double and single and Smith brought another home on a single.

—:—

ON WEDNESDAY, a consolation game at 7 p.m. will unfold before the championship contest.

The winner and runnerup will receive trophies.

Venturi Cruises To 5-Stroke Win

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ken Venturi's smashing five-stroke victory in the $50,000 American Golf Classic Sunday was doubly satisfying to golf's comeback king of 1964.

In addition to a $7,500 check, which boosted the national champion's earnings to $53,840, the triumph assured Venturi that his U.S. Open victory was no fluke.

The Classic was a big hurdle for Venturi. He missed the 54-hole cut in 1962 and last year he picked up a $110 check. But the long 7,165 - yard Firestone Course finally yielded to him. His victory over Mason Rudolph came on a final round of 35-34—69 and a 275 total—one stroke better than the four-round record of 276 set by Arnold Palmer in 1962 and tied by Johnny Pott last year.

Venturi's only bogey Sunday came on the 18th and final hole. He started the round with a two-stroke lead over Rudolph. He boosted it to four strokes as he put together 11 straight pars and clinched the victory with a birdie two on the 12th hole while Rudolph was getting a bogey.

In a run for second place Rudolph with a 37-35—72 and 280 finished one stroke ahead of Palmer, who had 35-34—69 and 281.

Jack Nicklaus shot a final 37-36—73 to finish fourth with 285.

Bears Get Arnett From Los Angeles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Jon Arnett helps the Chicago Bears as much as Paul Hornung figures to hurt them, National Football League followers can expect naother wire-to-wire duel in the NFL's Western Conference between the defending champion Bears and Hornung-hypoed Green Bay Packers.

The Bears hope Arnett, one-time All-Pro halfback whom they acquired Sunday in a three-for-one deal with the Los Angeles Rams, will add a breakaway threat to their lightweight offense that was further weakened last month by the tragic death of Willie Gallimore.

Chicago's offensive shortcomings were pinpointed Saturday night when the Packers and Hornung wrecked the Bears 21-7 in an exhibition game at Milwaukee.

The Bears didn't get untracked until Hornung, showing no signs of a year's inactivity, had run for two touchdowns, caught a scoring pass and kicked three extra points for a 21-0 lead. A fourth quarter touchdown pass from second strong quaterback Rudy Bukich to Gary Barnes averted a shutout.

Cleveland ripped Pittsburgh 42-7; Washington tripped the New York Giants 27-24; Minnesota stayed unbeaten with a 24-21 victory over San Francisco; the Rams defeated Dallas 25-16 and Detroit topped Philadelphia 17-13 in other NFL weekend tilts.

The New York Jets nipped Boston 21-20; San Diego beat Kansas City 26-14 and Oakland outscored Buffalo 34-31 in American Football League acton.

Arnett, 29-year-old veteran of eight NFL seasons, was hobbled last year by a knee injury but the speedster from Southern California says he is healthy and anxious to play in Chicago.

The Rams pried offensive guard Roger Davis, a 1963 regular, center Joe Wendryhoski and rookie defensive back Frank Budka from the Bears in exchange for Arnett.

Orioles Perched 1½ In Front After Split With Sox

Robinson Sparks Birds To 3 Of 4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's odd, but Brooks Robinson is at hs best in even-numbered years.

This year he's better than ever and has a better than even chance of being named the American League's most valuable player — if Baltimore wins the pennant.

Robinson tried to see to that, sparking the Orioles to three victories in four weekend games with Chicago. Baltimore won their third straight 7-3 Sunday before the White Sox salvaged the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The split left the Orioles 1½ games ahead of the White Sox, who led by one-half game before the series started.

Robnson lashed three hits in Sunday's opener, scoring two runs, and drove in the Orioles' lone run in the second game. In the previous two games, Robinson knocked in two runs in Friday's 4-2 triumph and slammed a three-run homer that won Saturday's game by the same score.

His over - all performance, eight hits in 16 times at bat, increased the 27-year-old third baseman's batting average seven points to .308, his home run total to 22 and his runs batted in to 85.

Robinson reached his best RBI mark in 1960 when he drove in 88 runs. He dipped to 61 the next season but rose to 86 in 1962 when he also hit 23 homers and batted .303, his best marks in those categories prior to this season.

But the oddity struck again as he plummeted to a .251 average last year with only 11 homers and 67 RBI.

In other AL games Sunday, New York edged Boston 4-3, Cleveland took Los Angeles 6-4 and 3-2, Washington lost to Kansas City 3-1 before winning 8-5 and Minnesota nipped Detroit 6-5, then lost 5-2.

One of Robinson's three hits in the opener was a key single in the Orioles' four-run outburst in the fifth inning. It was another Robinson, Earl, who singled in two of the runs. The rally helped rookie Wally Bunker to his 13th victory against only three defeats.

Gary Peters pitched the White Sox to the second - game triumph, scattering seven hits for his 14th victory in 21 decisions. Chicago scored all of their runs in the seventh. Floyd Robinson triggered the rally with a single and eventually scored on a wild throw by Sam Bowens.

Johnny Blanchard and Mickey Mantle each drove in two runs as the Yankees continued their recovery from a six-game losing streak. Blanchard brought in Roger Maris with sacrifice flies in the sixth and in the eighth while Mantle unloaded a two-run homer in the third.

Bob Tillman doubled and scored for Boston in the seventh and homered in the ninth.

Cleveland swept its second straight doubleheader from the Angels. Rookie Luis Tiant pitched a six-hitter for his seventh victory in nine decisions in the opener. Bob Chance belted three hits and drove in two runs for the Indians.

John Romano singled across two runs in Cleveland's three-run third in the nightcap. The rally was aided by pitcher Dan Osinski's throwing error. Felix Torres homered for the Angels.

Willie Kirkland led the Senators to their second-game victory over the Athletics, lashing a two-run single in a five-run fourth inning and slamming a solo homer in the seventh.

John Wyatt preserved Diego Segui's victory in the first game, striking out pinch hitters Don Zimmer and Chuck Hinton with the tying runs on base in the ninth inning. Bill Bryan homered for the Athletics' decisive run in a two-run fifth.

Hank Aguirre won his third game of the season and his first since July 1, stopping the Twins on five hits in the second game. Bill Freehan hit two homers and Gates Brown and Don Demeter one each for the Tigers.

Tony Oliva's run-scoring single in the ninth inning won the opener for the Twins after Don Mincher tied the game in the eighth with a grand slam homer. Jerry Lumpe and Dick McAuliffe clouted two-run homers for Detroit.

Allen Wrecks Bucs, Phils Lead By 7½

Phillies Star Eyes Rookie, MVP Honors

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen, Philadelphia's hard - hitting third baseman, wears orange shoes, four-button suits and sports jackets with buckles in the back.

Now he's trying to stick a couple of feathers in his cap.

A leading contender for both Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player honors, the stand-out dresser and outstanding third baseman belted two homers and a single, driving in four runs Sunday as the National League leading Phillies walloped Pittsburgh 9-3.

The performance lifted Allen's batting average to .313, gave him 23 homers and 66 runs batted in, and once again shot him front and center as a distinct possibility to become the first rookie in major league history to win the MVP award.

Allen, whose chief competition for MVP honors might come from teammates John (All-Star Hero) Callison and Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning, hit a two-run homer against the Pirates in the third inning, hit a solo homer in the fifth and singled home a run in the eighth

Bunning, who went seven innings, benefited from the support, bringing his record to 14-4 with a 2.17 earned run average despite being tagged for homers by Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon.

The victory boosted the Phillies lead to 7½ games over Cincinnati and San Francisco. The Reds lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers and Phil Ortega's three-hitter 1-0 while the Giants edged St. Louis 3-2 in 10 innings.

In other games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings and 5-4 and Houston beat Milwaukee 7-1 in a night game.

Ortega, who hadn't pitched a complete game since May 19, brought his record to 6-5 by keeping the Reds in check. The Dodgers, meanwhile, scored their only run against Jim O'Toole, 13-6, in the second inning on a double by Nate Oliver and Dick Tracewski's single.

The Cardinals pulled into a tie with the Giants on Lou Brock's homer in the eighth but lost it in the 10th when Jesus Alou scored from third on Dal Maxville's error.

Alou started the inning with a single, moved up on a bunt, raced to third on Tom Haller's long fly and scored when Maxville let Harvey Kuenn's grounder get away from him.

The Mets won the opener in the 10th after George Altman led off with a double and took third on a grounder. Ron Hunt and Joe Christopher then were walked intentionally, setting up a force at any base, but Ed Kranepool ruined the stretegy with a well-placed single to left.

The Cubs tried the same thing in the ninth inning of the nightcap and again lost while the Mets won their seventh in eighth games. Bobby Klaus singled and wound up on third with one out. Christopher and Altman were walked purposely, but one out later, Charlie Smith singled in the clincher.

Larsen, who hadn't pitched a complete game since July 2, 1959 when he was with the New York Yankees, allowed the Braves only five hits and retired 18 batters in a row at one stretch as the Colts scored their third straight over the Braves.

Pony League Playoff To Begin Wednesday

The Pony League playoffs scheduled to open tonight will begin Wednesday and the starting time has been moved up to 5:45 p.m. The playoff will continue Thursday and on Friday if necessary.

Whittington Hurls No-Hitter

South Side Nine To Play In Title Game Wednesday

Craig Whittington of Newell pitched a no-hit game in one of two victories over the weekend as the South Side Junior All-Star team advanced to the finals of the Robinson Township Lions Club Tournament.

South Side will be one of two teams from a starting field of 40 which will play Wednesday at 9 p.m. for the championship.

—:—

THE SOUTH SIDE Stars will meet the winner of tonight's West-View Ross-Bethel Park game. Last year, South Side was eliminated in the first round but has gone all the way to the finals in its second attempt.

On Saturday, Whittington, one of the top hurlers in the league this past season, twirled his masterpiece and almost turned in a perfect game. He gave up one walk to spoil his bid for the perfect contest.

WHITTINGTON'S no - hitter came in a 1-0 victory over Sto-Ken-Rox which developed into a pitcher's duel all the way.

Whittington fanned 13 batters on his way to the no-hitter while Dandrea, a southpaw, allowed only one hit and struck out 14 batters.

Vic Reed proved the hero of the contest when he got the only hit off Dandrea in the fourth inning. He moved to second on a walk then took third on a passed ball.

—:—

REED SCORED the only run of the game when a pitched ball got away from the catcher who retrieved it in time but could not get the sliding Reed who twisted around the catcher to score.

South Side came back to post its fourth straight victory of the tournament with a 4-3 win over the Carnegie Americans Sunday night.

The three runs by Carnegie marked the first time South Side had been scored on in the tourney.

SOUTH SIDE scored two runs in the first, one in third and one in the fourth. Vic Reed was the winning pitcher and fanned eight batters walked four and gave up only four hits.

Reed, Whittington, Larry Anderson and Tom Smith had two hits each in South Side's nine-hit attack with Whittington driving in two runs on a double and single and Smith brought another home on a single.

—:—

ON WEDNESDAY, a consolation game at 7 p.m. will unfold before the championship contest.

The winner and runnerup will receive trophies.

Whittington will probably be manager's Bud Green's choice to hurl the championship contest.

Wills Criticizes Giles, Wants Balk Rule Called

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Wrter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers contemptuously pad a $50 fine to National League President Warren C. Giles with 5,000 pennies.

If anything, the little shortstop's respect for Giles has since diminished.

Wills, who has run his salary up ot $50,000 largely by stealing bases, accused Giles Sunday of stealing excitement from fans and opportunity from good baserunners by failing to have the balk rule enforced.

In fact, Wills charged, the National League office has gone so far as to take money away from umpires who tried to enforce it.

Sad Giles: "If Wills has a complaint, he should make it n writing. And he should get his facts straight before making public statements."

Giles did not elaborate.

Wills did. He said he had a long talk with an umpire recently "and he told me the whole story."

"Last year the umpires who were calling all those balks early in the season were called into the National League office," Wills said. "At first the league office had wanted the balk rule enforced. Then the umpires really started calling a lot of them and they were told to cut down."

This annoyed umpires, Wills said, because it placed them in the impossible position of having to judge not whether a pitcher was balking but "whether he was balking too much."

Wills said he learned one umpire "lost his Christmas bonus because he enforced the rule and I believe one also was cut in salary for the same reason."

The section of the balk rule that has caused perhaps the most trouble is the one providing that, with a runner or runners on base, a pitcher working from the set position must bring his hands to a stop before delivering a pitch.

Wills said the stop requirement is being ignored and this makes it difficult for the base stealer to decide when to take off.

Wills has 38 steals so far this season.

Wills set a modern major league record in 1962 by stealin 104 bases.

Defending Kings Eye 3rd Straight Net Doubles Title

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston were out to retire the trophy today with a third consecutive victory in the National Doubles Tennis Championship, facing the first British team to reach the final since 1903.

McKinley and Ralston, the mainstays of the U.S. Davis Cup team that will defend its title in the Challenge Round at Cleveland next month, will be trying to become the first team to retire trophies since Bill Talbert and Gardner Mulloy did it in 1946.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., and Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced to the final Sunday with a 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 12-10 triumph over fourth-seeded Frank Froehling of Miami and Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R.

Their opponents will be Mike Sangster and Graham Stillwell, who first completed a quarterfinal match against Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., wnning 2-6, 22-20, 6-3, 8-10, 6-4.

The British duo then defeated two of their countryman. Tim Phillips and Ray Weedon, 9-7, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

2 High School Players Die Of Football Injuries

By The Associated Press

Two 15-year-old high school players died after suffering football injuries over the weekend.

Daniel D. Pavey, a freshman fullback, died Sunday after collapsing Friday during the first football workout held by Washington Court High School in Washington Court House, Ohio.

Allen Wagner, a sophomore guard from McSherrytown, Pa., died Sunday after suffering head injuries during a practice session by Delone Catholic High School.

Football deaths declined last year to 14 after 19 deaths were attributed to the sport in 1961 and 1962. At least four have been recorded this year.

Wrestling To Launch Trials For Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — With 17 Olympic trials on its menu this year, New York City digs into the main dish of five sports this week and next.

The wrestling portion opens first today with the top wrestlers still undecided on which division — freestyle or Greco-Roman—to compete in at Tokyo. Olympic rules allow an athlete to compete in only one division.

Miss McIntire Wins Amateur Golf Crown

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Barbara McIntire, fresh from her second victory in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf tournament, turns now to the Curtis Cup match to be played in South Wales Sept. 11-12.

Miss McIntire, from Colorado Springs, defeated Joe Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals of the 64th women's tournament Saturday at Prairie Dunes Country Club. Miss Gunderson had won the tournament three times previously and Miss McIntire won in 1959.

Browns Trade Raaphorst To Cowboys

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns today traded rookie place kicker Dick Van Raaphorst to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

This means Browns veteran Lou Groza, heading into his 18th season with the Browns and his 14th in the National Football League, again will be carrying the place kicking load.

Groza, who is 40, is the NFL's leading all-time scorer, with a total of 987. His pro football career total is 1,246 points, including his four years with the Browns in the old all-American Conference.

The trade cuts the Browns' squad to 51. Six more must go by 4 p.m. Tuesday, when the squad must be cut to 45.

Van Raaphorst was tutored by Groza before entering Ohio State University, where he proceeded to set a Big Ten place kicking record. He was picked by the Browns on the 10th round of the NFL draft.

Wellsville Ends Season With Split

Wellsville ended the regular Tri-County League season by splitting a doubleheader with Bergholz winning the first game, 2-1 and losing the nightcap, 4-0.

Bob Agnew went all the way for Wellsville in the opener giving up three hits while fanning six batters. Agnew also was the hitting star by collecting two of his team's three hits. Hibbs was the losing pitcher.

In the second game, Bergholz jumped on Jim Miles for three runs in the first inning then Danko went on to blank Wellsville on seven hits.

Ron Ensinger smacked a double and single and Agnew stroked two doubles for Wellsville. Santra had a double and single for the winners. Miles struck out seven Bergholz batters.

Wellsville finished second in the league standings with a 20-8 record with Jewett winning the championship.

The League playoff games open next Sunday with Wellsville hosting Jewett. The winner will go to the finals at Carrollton.

Wills Criticizes Giles, Wants Balk Rule Called

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Wrter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two years ago Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers contemptuously pad a $50 fine to National League President Warren C. Giles with 5,000 pennies.

If anything, the little shortstop's respect for Giles has since diminished.

Wills, who has run his salary up ot $50,000 largely by stealing bases, accused Giles Sunday of stealing excitement from fans and opportunity from good baserunners by failing to have the balk rule enforced.

In fact, Wills charged, the National League office has gone so far as to take money away from umpires who tried to enforce it.

Sad Giles: "If Wills has a complaint, he should make it n writing. And he should get his facts straight before making public statements."

Giles did not elaborate.

Wills did. He said he had a long talk with an umpire recently "and he told me the whole story."

"Last year the umpires who were calling all those balks early in the season were called into the National League office," Wills said. "At first the league office had wanted the balk rule enforced. Then the umpires really started calling a lot of them and they were told to cut down."

This annoyed umpires, Wills said, because it placed them in the impossible position of having to judge not whether a pitcher was balking but "whether he was balking too much."

Wills said he learned one umpire "lost his Christmas bonus because he enforced the rule and I believe one also was cut in salary for the same reason."

The section of the balk rule that has caused perhaps the most trouble is the one providing that, with a runner or runners on base, a pitcher working from the set position must bring his hands to a stop before delivering a pitch.

Wills said the stop requirement is being ignored and this makes it difficult for the base stealer to decide when to take off.

Wills has 38 steals so far this season.

Wills set a modern major league record in 1962 by stealin 104 bases.

Defending Kings Eye 3rd Straight Net Doubles Title

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (AP) — Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston were out to retire the trophy today with a third consecutive victory in the National Doubles Tennis Championship, facing the first British team to reach the final since 1903.

McKinley and Ralston, the mainstays of the U.S. Davis Cup team that will defend its title in the Challenge Round at Cleveland next month, will be trying to become the first team to retire trophies since Bill Talbert and Gardner Mulloy did it in 1946.

McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., and Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced to the final Sunday with a 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 12-10 triumph over fourth-seeded Frank Froehling of Miami and Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R.

Their opponents will be Mike Sangster and Graham Stillwell, who first completed a quarterfinal match against Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., wnning 2-6, 22-20, 6-3, 8-10, 6-4.

The British duo then defeated two of their countryman. Tim Phillips and Ray Weedon, 9-7, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

2 High School Players Die Of Football Injuries

By The Associated Press

Two 15-year-old high school players died after suffering football injuries over the weekend.

Daniel D. Pavey, a freshman fullback, died Sunday after collapsing Friday during the first football workout held by Washington Court High School in Washington Court House, Ohio.

Allen Wagner, a sophomore guard from McSherrytown, Pa., died Sunday after suffering head injuries during a practice session by Delone Catholic High School.

Football deaths declined last year to 14 after 19 deaths were attributed to the sport in 1961 and 1962. At least four have been recorded this year.

Wrestling To Launch Trials For Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — With 17 Olympic trials on its menu this year, New York City digs into the main dish of five sports this week and next.

The wrestling portion opens first today with the top wrestlers still undecided on which division — freestyle or Greco-Roman—to compete in at Tokyo. Olympic rules allow an athlete to compete in only one division.

Miss McIntire Wins Amateur Golf Crown

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Barbara McIntire, fresh from her second victory in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf tournament, turns now to the Curtis Cup match to be played in South Wales Sept. 11-12.

Miss McIntire, from Colorado Springs, defeated Joe Anne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., 3 and 2 in the 36-hole finals of the 64th women's tournament Saturday at Prairie Dunes Country Club. Miss Gunderson had won the tournament three times previously and Miss McIntire won in 1959.

Browns Trade Raaphorst To Cowboys

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns today traded rookie place kicker Dick Van Raaphorst to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

This means Browns veteran Lou Groza, heading into his 18th season with the Browns and his 14th in the National Football League, again will be carrying the place kicking load.

Groza, who is 40, is the NFL's leading all-time scorer, with a total of 987. His pro football career total is 1,246 points, including his four years with the Browns in the old all-American Conference.

The trade cuts the Browns' squad to 51. Six more must go by 4 p.m. Tuesday, when the squad must be cut to 45.

Van Raaphorst was tutored by Groza before entering Ohio State University, where he proceeded to set a Big Ten place kicking record. He was picked by the Browns on the 10th round of the NFL draft.

Wellsville Ends Season With Split

Wellsville ended the regular Tri-County League season by splitting a doubleheader with Bergholz winning the first game, 2-1 and losing the nightcap, 4-0.

Bob Agnew went all the way for Wellsville in the opener giving up three hits while fanning six batters. Agnew also was the hitting star by collecting two of his team's three hits. Hibbs was the losing pitcher.

In the second game, Bergholz jumped on Jim Miles for three runs in the first inning then Danko went on to blank Wellsville on seven hits.

Ron Ensinger smacked a double and single and Agnew stroked two doubles for Wellsville. Santra had a double and single for the winners. Miles struck out seven Bergholz batters.

Wellsville finished second in the league standings with a 20-8 record with Jewett winning the championship.

The League playoff games open next Sunday with Wellsville hosting Jewett. The winner will go to the finals at Carrollton.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAILBOATS

QUESTION: How do sailboats keep from tipping over?

ANSWER: People who don't know about sailboats are often alarmed, when they first go for a sail, to find the boat tipping sharply over (sailors call this "heeling") when going across or into the wind. Actually, sailboats are supposed to sail this way. As the boat heels over, the wind spills off the sail (black arrows, upper left) and so a moderate amount of heel is a safety measure. Sailboats have other ways of preventing the heeling from going too far, (upper picture) the weight on the bottom of the keel tends to balance against the force of the wind on the sail, and the keel itself pushes against the water on its upper side (black arrows). Boats of this kind, designed for rough water, rarely capsize. Smaller sailboats, used on calmer waters, often have a centerboard instead of a keel. This can be raised or lowered. These boats are usually wide, which means the bottom, pressing down, keeps them from heeling too far. As additional help, the crew usually gets its weight up on the windward side. If a strong puff of wind comes, the watchful skipper slacks out instantly on the "sheet" controlling the sail and so prevents a capsize.

FOR YOU TO DO: Sailing is one of the most thrilling of all sports. Try it if you have a chance. But first get someone who really knows how to sail to show you all about it.

Hurricanes

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Tigerish Tempest Of Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When the white man came to the New World, the Indian told him about the tigerish tempest that often sprang unprovoked upon islanders of the tropical Atlantic. They called the storm "huracan."

Christopher Columbus learned first-hand. He was leading his second expedition in 1494 when a hurricane struck the settlement of Isabella on Santo Domingo. Columbus lost eight of his nine ships.

Columbus grew weather-wise, as did the Indians, but eyes and ears were their sole instruments.

Today, man has radar, airplanes and satellites but men still don't know when or where hurricanes will form, although the forerunners are detectable over broad expanses of the hemisphere.

After sticky, humid weather, the easterly winds blow more briskly, the rains fall more frequently. Fishermen note the fish bite more recklessly. They crowd into passes and tidewater streams.

The surf's pulse slows. Long swells slide smoothly ashore six times a minute instead of the normal 10 or 11.

The wind turns north-northeasterly. Gusts rise to 30 or 35 miles an hour. The sea is turbulent. The surf runs wild and clamorous. Brief rain squalls slash and run. The sky darkens.

Then the hurricane strikes.

Gordon E. Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said observers will concentrate on trying to obtain data on the formation of hurricanes and studying mature storms to determine their normal variability.

Dunn expects the satellite Nimbus, to be launched Friday, to send back revealing pictures of cloud formations and provide daylight photographs of the equator every 24 hours.

Tiros satellites have provided interesting pictures of clouds and have spotted hurricanes but they were not oriented as Nimbus will be. A weather satellite system is still a year or two away, Dunn said.

The Navy, Air Force and automatic buoys keep a check on hurricanes in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. These forces have been beefed up for the 1964 storm season.

The Navy, operating from Jacksonville and Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, again will use Super Constellations. These 70-ton flying laboratories, with crews of 28 to 30 men, can remain aloft for 21 hours. They have been in use since 1958 for low level penetration into the eye of the hurricane as well as for spotting the big storms.

While main hurricane months are August, September and October, these devastating storms have occurred at other times and Cleo is the fourth this season. In June one formed in the Gulf of Mexico, moved across north Florida and into the Atlantic, with winds of 50 to 60 miles per hour.

In late July a storm formed near the Leeward Islands and passed not far from Bermuda. It had winds of hurricane force — 74 miles an hour — for one day and maritime advisories were issued.

The first tropical storm to be given a name this season, Abby, formed quickly in the Gulf of Mexico and moved inland along the middle Texas coast Aug. 7, packing winds up to 60 miles per hour in squalls near the center.

Embattled Scioto Conservancy

Future Of Flood Control Body Put In More Doubt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The directors of the Scioto Conservancy District have put the future of the embattled flood control body further into doubt.

The directors withdrew its appraisal report on dam assessments for the Alum Creek and Mill Creek dam projects Saturday and left the projects for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to build with federal money.

The action received the consent of three judges of the five-member conservancy district court, the governing body of the district.

The action came amid increasing controversy over assessments for the projects and opponents' urging that the projects be turned over to the Army Engineers.

The conservancy court is composed of a Common Pleas Court judge from each of the five counties in the district.

Consenting to the withdrawal action were judges Kenneth L. Sater of Franklin County, Earl Parker of Pike County and Lowell Thompson of Scioto County.

Refusing to sign the order were judges William Ammer of Pickaway County and Howard Goldsberry of Ross County.

Judge Ammer, who has said that the only solution to the controversy over the district is to dissolve it, said in a statement Sunday that he refused to sign the withdrawal order for legal reasons and he "still sincerely believe the . . . district should be dissolved."

"I did not sign this entry because I do not find any provision of statute to permit this," Ammer said. "The withdrawal of the appraisal report and its re-reference to the conservancy district directors, appraisers and staff can be taken only after the hearing on the appraisals and assessments has been held."

A recent injunction by the 10th District Court of Appeals has blocked action on the appraisal report including holding the hearing, and Ammer said the injunction apparently "makes it now improper for the conservancy court to withdraw the appraisal report or to take any action in connection with it."

Property owners affected by the dam projects had deluged the court with complaints following release of the assessment report. The appellate court injunction was filed following initiation of a suit by the city of Columbus against the conservancy district.

Columbus city attorney John C. Young said, that, because of the district directors', action, he will recommend to City Council and Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner that the city's lawsuit challenging the assessments and the Ohio Conservancy Act be withdrawn.

Battle Waged On 4 Fronts

Houston Fights Sleeping Sickness And Its Carrier

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The battle in Houston against encephalitis and its carrier—the mosquito — was being waged on four fronts today as the number of suspected cases continued to climb.

On the clinical front, at Ben Taub Hospital, nine new patients were admitted as possibly having encephalitis or sleeping sickness. Confirmation was impossible pending completion of laboratory tests.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, who is coordinating the all-out war against the disease, said that as of Sunday night 120 cases had been reported in the Houston area.

Of this number, only four cases had been confirmed by laboratory tests. Blood specimens taken from approximately 23 cases were in variou stages of laboratory analysis.

Pigford said that in the last five weeks two deaths had been confirmed as due to encephalitis and 14 other deaths were under investigation.

On the epidemic front, Pigford said members of his staff and specialists from the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta, Ga., were working with maps to pinpoint where reported cases have occurred and expanding the system of obtaining reports of suspected cases from private hospitals.

Wellsville Resident Graduates As Nurse

Miss Linda Lee Haugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Haugh, 631 Main St., Wellsville, was graduated from Pittsburgh's Allegheny General Hospital School of Nursing at commencement exercises Friday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh.

One of 44 members of the class, she plans to work at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia and study at the University of Pennsylvania beginning in October. She previously attended St. John College in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Haugh and several friends and relatives from the Wellsville area attended the graduation.

Eagle Lands On Power Line, Electrocuted

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) —A proud bald eagle swooped regally in for a landing on a power line — and wound up bald all over.

The great bird, boasting a 73-inch wingspan, short-circuited himself to death Sunday when he touched two power lines.

U.S. In Viet Nam Because Of Commitments, VFW Told

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United States is in Viet Nam because it was asked and because it must keep its commitments to freedom in Asia, according to a State Department specialist.

If the Communists are allowed to succeed in Viet Nam, they can apply the same techniques elsewhere in the world, Michael V. Forrestal, a special assistant for Vietnamese affairs, said Sunday.

He told top leaders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a military briefing:

"This is the final reason why the struggle for Viet Nam must be of such concern to us."

Forrestal and Maj. Gen. Richard G. Weede, assistant chief of staff of Marine Corps headquarters, discussed U.S. military commitments on air, sea and land and the problems of maintaining American superiority in the face of what they termed continuous Communist thrusts.

The 65th annual VFW Convention officially opens today. Among the speakers on the agenda are Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, Adm. Harry D. Felt, (Ret.), former commander of the U.S. naval forces in the Pacific, and Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., the astronaut. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Republican presidential nominee, is slated to address the 11,000 convention delegates tomorrow at Public Hall. The week - long meetings end Friday.

Forrestal said the war in South Viet Nam is costing $1.5 million a day and is slowly gaining against the Communists. For one thing, he explained, Vietnamese desertions are half what they were in March, but the west must be patient and not hurry the east.

Forrestal spoke of "scattered newspaper reports" that the Vietnamese were getting tired and that morale in the countryside was low, and added:

"So far as we can tell, this is not generally true . . . morale in the countryside is considerably higher than it is in Saigon."

Sergeant Designated 'Soldier Of Quarter'

Sgt. Robert Roach, son of Mrs. Clifford Silverthorn of Westfield, has been named "Soldier of the Quarter" at Ft. Hood, Tex., where he is stationed as chief wardmaster in nursing service.

A 17-year veteran, he spent eight years overseas. He was stationed in Japan from 1948 to 1953, and Germany from 1958 to 1961.

Sgt. Roach has received several medals, including the Good Conduct with five loops, the Occupation, National Defense, Korean Service with three battle stars and the United Nations Medal.

He attended East Liverpool High School. He resides in Pershing Park, Tex., with his wife and two children.

Pughtown Ruritans Will Meet On Sept. 15

The Pughtown Ruritan Club will meet Sept. 15 and the program will be presented by the Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The club's annual pancake and sausage supper has been set for Oct. 22 at the Fairview Grange Hall. Each year the members slaughter a hog and make their own sausage, in addition to manning the kitchen and diningroom at the supper.

Eagle Lands On Power Line, Electrocuted

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — A proud bald eagle swooped regally in for a landing on a power line — and wound up bald all over.

The great bird, boasting a 73-inch wingspan, short-circuited himself to death Sunday when he touched two power lines.

U.S. In Viet Nam Because Of Commitments, VFW Told

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United States is in Viet Nam because it was asked and because it must keep its commitments to freedom in Asia, according to a State Department specialist.

If the Communists are allowed to succeed in Viet Nam, they can apply the same techniques elsewhere in the world, Michael V. Forrestal, a special assistant for Vietnamese affairs, said Sunday.

He told top leaders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a military briefing:

"This is the final reason why the struggle for Viet Nam must be of such concern to us."

Forrestal and Maj. Gen. Richard G. Weede, assistant chief of staff of Marine Corps headquarters, discussed U.S. military commitments on air, sea and land and the problems of maintaining American superiority in the face of what they termed continuous Communist thrusts.

The 65th annual VFW Convention officially opens today. Among the speakers on the agenda are Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, Adm. Harry D. Felt, (Ret.), former commander of the U.S. naval forces in the Pacific, and Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., the astronaut. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Republican presidential nominee, is slated to address the 11,000 convention delegates tomorrow at Public Hall. The week - long meetings end Friday.

Forrestal said the war in South Viet Nam is costing $1.5 million a day and is slowly gaining against the Communists. For one thing, he explained, Vietnamese desertions are half what they were in March, but the west must be patient and not hurry the east.

Forrestal spoke of "scattered newspaper reports" that the Vietnamese were getting tired and that morale in the countryside was low, and added:

"So far as we can tell, this is not generally true . . . morale in the countryside is considerably higher than it is in Saigon."

Sergeant Designated 'Soldier Of Quarter'

Sgt. Robert Roach, son of Mrs. Clifford Silverthorn of Westfield, has been named "Soldier of the Quarter" at Ft. Hood, Tex., where he is stationed as chief wardmaster in nursing service.

A 17-year veteran, he spent eight years overseas. He was stationed in Japan from 1948 to 1953, and Germany from 1958 to 1961.

Sgt. Roach has received several medals, including the Good Conduct with five loops, the Occupation, National Defense, Korean Service with three battle stars and the United Nations Medal.

He attended East Liverpool High School. He resides in Pershing Park, Tex., with his wife and two children.

Pughtown Ruritans Will Meet On Sept. 15

The Pughtown Ruritan Club will meet Sept. 15 and the program will be presented by the Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The club's annual pancake and sausage supper has been set for Oct. 22 at the Fairview Grange Hall. Each year the members slaughter a hog and make their own sausage, in addition to manning the kitchen and diningroom at the supper.
